JURY OUT OVER THREE HOURS

District Attorney Mitchell Asked For Lesser Degree Than Murder Verdict.

ATTORNEY MILLS PLEADED FOR ACQUITTAL OF HANNIS

Judge Fanning Ordered That No Demonstration Be Made After the Reading of the Verdict—Hannis Was Confident of Being Exonerated.

William Hannis is not guilty of the charge of murder. So said the twelve good and true citizens of the county who heard the evidence and considered the case in all its phases. The verdict of acquital was returned Friday night at 5:25 o'clock, after a deliberation of three hours and five minutes.

No Demonstration.

When the jury returned with their verdict and it's contents had been made known to Judge Fanning, he ordered that no demonstration should be made at the conclusion of the reading of the verdict. Deep silence fell over the room as the verdict was read and the roll of the juors was called.

Hannis was nervous, but seemed confident that the verdict would free him from a terrible charge. He leaned forward in his chair and fairly drank in the words which made him a free man.

A number of his friends who were in the court room, came forward and in a quiet manner offered congratulations, and expressed their satisfaction at the outcome of the case. Mrs. Hannis and children, who have been conspicuous figures during the trial, were not in the court room when the verdict was returned.

Jury Secured Quickly.

The case was called shortly after nine o'clock Wednesday morning, and at noon, nine jurors had qualified and taken their places in the box. William Sick of Ooverton township, was the first juror accepted. At 2:45 in the afternoon, the panel had been completed, and twelve good and true citizens of the county were sworn to hear the case and render a verdict in accordance with the testimony. The securing of the jury required but comparatively short time, in fact twelve men were secured in less time than for any murder trial ever started in this county. But 40 men were called before the box had been filled.

Following are the men who will decided the case:

WILLIAM SICK Overton township.
FRANCIS J. BAILEY, LeRaysville borough.
WALTER A. BOWEN, Warren township.
JOHN DAILEY, Athens township.
EDWARD L. JOHNSON, Franklin township.
FRED D. KERRICK, Asylum township.
LINCOLN D. STEVENS, Pike township.
BURLEY R. TERRY, Terry township.
FRANK L. WHITE, Litchfield township.
JAMES P. CAMPBELL, Athens township.
LEO HAVENS, Ulster township.
JACOB WESTBROOK, Athens township.

Closing Hours of Trial.

There was a large crowd of people in the court room Friday morning when Hon. C. E. Mills commenced his plea for Hannis. The former district attorney, who gained great prominence for his work in convicting the Johnson brothers and sending them to the gallows, was at his best, and pleaded earnestly for the salvation of his client.

He reviewed the facts as presented to the jury, told of the honorable life Hannis had lived, called the attention of the jury to the 10 citizens of Sayre all men with a reputation for truth and honor, who had testified to Hannis' good character and then Mr. Mills asked if the jury could believe him guilty of murder. Mr. Mills told of the fact that Hannis was one of three men in this state to be released on bail when held on the charge of murder. Then he showed the jury that the trouble between Hannis and Bush started in fun but Bush was too intoxicated to see the fun and then he told of the fatal termination which he said resulted from a fall in which Hannis had no part. He laid great stress upon the only damaging evidence introduced by the Commonwealth, that of Chief of Police Walsh. This evidence was to the effect that the next morning following the death of Bush, Chief Walsh went to the lockup in which Hannis was confined and when asked how Bush was told the defendant that he was dead. This information caused Hannis to break down, and between sobs, he said to the chief: "I have lived in Sayre all my life and this is the first trouble I was ever in. Jim made a pass at me, and I made a pass at him, and he fell." Mr. Mills claimed that the sight of the officer's uniform, and the fact that Hannis was under great mental strain caused him to make the statement which was practically the only evidence against him. In closing Mr. Mills asked that the jury send Hannis back home to his wife and children. His address covered a period of one hour and 20 minutes.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when District Attorney Mitchell commenced his address to the jury. He reviewed the case from start to finish, making every point of the Commonwealth's case clear, and admitted that insufficient evidence had been introduced to justify a verdict of murder in the first degree. He stated that through a drunken brawl a life had gone out and to a certain extent the defendant was responsible and should be punished accordingly. After waiving the charge of murder the District Attorney pleaded earnestly that the twelve men would see it their duty to return a verdict of murder in the second degree or voluntary manslaughter. His address, which was a most excellent one, occupied but an hour. At the close of Mr. Mitchell's address, adjournment was taken for dinner.

Judge Fanning commenced his charge to the jury at 1:20 p. m., and finished an hour later. The charge was fair and impartial, simply being the instructing of the jury as to it's duty, the defining of the law relative to the various degrees of murder.

At 2:20 the jury retired, and deliberated three hours and five minutes before a verdict was reached.

The Alleged Crime.

The alleged murder for which Hannis was tried grows out of the death of James Bush at Sayre on Dec. 22, 1908. Bush and Hannis, long time friends, were in the bar room of the Bradford House and had a few drinks. Bush became enraged at Hannis, and saying something about Hannis trying to take his watch, he rushed at him, struck him a number of times, knocked off his hat and glasses. Hannis, according to the evidence of eye witnesses, made no attempt to strike Bush, who was a much older man, but backed away and tried to avoid the onslaught.

Hannis left the bar room, going out of doors. A short time later, it is alleged, a man came in the bar room and told Bush that he had better slip out the side door and go home as Hannis was waiting for him out doors and might hurt him. Bush left the place, and a few minutes later he was found on the sidewalk in front of the hotel in an unconscious condition and was hurried to the Packer hospital, where he died a few hours later without regaining consciousness.

Hannis was arrested by High Constable Ritz, and after a formal hearing was held to court on the charge of murder. His case was continued from the February term, and he was released on $15,000 bail for his appearance, prominent Sayre men becoming his bondsmen.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT FOR ATTORNEY KAUFMAN.

Awarded Amount of His Claim Against Clara P. Brown of Rochester.

The jury in the case of David E. Kaufman, Esq., vs. U. M. Fell garnishee of Clara P. Brown of Rochester, N. Y., Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of Attorney Kaufman.

This case grew out of the prosecution of Miss Brown and other parties by the government for the selling of books and periodicals in Towanda a couple of years ago. Mr. Kaufman was attorney for the parties and to get his pay for services and money expended in their behalf, he attached $250 belonging to Miss Brown which was in the hands of U. M. Fell cashier of the First National bank of Towanda The defense contended that the money belonged to Miss Brown's mother, Mrs. Emithene Higgs of Rochester, and therefore could not be touched. The jury decided otherwise, and returned a verdict for the plaintiff, Attorney Kaufman. Rodney A. Mercur and Lilley & Wilson were attorneys for the plaintiff, while William Maxwell represented the defendant.

The case of Bertha Pratt vs. the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, an action in trespass, scheduled for trial in common pleas court this term, the plaintiff suffers a voluntary non suit. William Maxwell was attorney for the plaintiff, while R. A. Mercur represented the defendant company.

The case of the Home Educator Company vs. George F. Stanton, also scheduled for trial this term, has been settled.

The case of Mrs. W. F. Holmes vs. the Lehigh Valley Railroad company was called for trial late Tuesday afternoon. W. E. Lane and Rodney A. Mercur represent Mrs. Holmes, while William Maxwell is attorney for the defendant company.

Divorce Decreed.

A divorce has been granted Albin Harris from his wife, Ella M. Harris, on the grounds of desertion. The parties lived at Burlington at the time of the desertion.

LAQUIN MAN MET HORRIBLE FATE

Charles Richards Instantly Killed by Conveying Elevator in Kindling Wood Factory

WAS NIGHT WATCHMMAN AT THE FACTORY

His Hand Was Caught by Chain and Body Drawn in Where His Life Was Snuffed Out—No Witnesses to the Accident.

Charles Richards, aged 56, night watchman at the kindling wood factory at Laquin, met a horrible fate on Wednesday evening of this week. He was instantly killed by a conveying elevator.

The machinery in the factory is not stopped until 6:10. Mr. Richards generally goes to work at 6 and his first duty has been to sweep and straighten up things about the building. While doing this his hand caught in the chain of the elevator and he was drawn in, one of the conveying cups on the chain striking him near the heart, crushing in his chest and causing instant death. There were but two marks on his body, one on the hand and the other on the left breast, which shows the manner in which he was caught.

The first intimation any one had of the accident was when the elevator came to a sudden stop. A man on the second floor seeing the elevator stop with a jar, made an investigation and found the body of Mr. Richards wedged in the machinery, with the cup bearing on the chest near the heart.

The unfortunate man was a hard worker, and enjoyed the esteem and respect of all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, three sons: Charles and John Richards of Laquin, Ernest Richards of Laquin, and two daughters, Mrs. H. J. Andy and Miss Minnie Losey of Laquin.

Funeral of Charles Richards.

The funeral of the late Charles Richards was held at Laquin Saturday morning and was very largely attended. Rev. William Groover, pastor of the Baptist church, conducted the services, preaching an eloquent sermon, paying high tribute to the life of the deceased. The body was brought to Towanda on the morning S. & N. Y. train and taken direct to Riverside cemetery where interment was made. A large concourse of friends accompanied the funeral party to Towanda. The pallbearers were C. E. Payne, R. H. Lunt, Fred Hurd, W. F. Beers, Harry Griggs and James W. Haupt.

CHILSON IN AND OUT.

Released on Bail on Pickett Case and Committed on Hollon Charge.

Burt Chilson, the young man who assaulted and seriously injured Detective Hollon last Friday night, was released from jail Tuesday on $400 bail on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Pickett, but his liberty was short, as Chief Miller arrested him a short time later on the charge of assaulting Officer Hollon.

The young man's father, U. B. Chilson, became his bondsman in the sum of $400, and 'Squire Meredith released him. This was on the Pickett case. The charge made by Detective Hollon is assault and battery with intent to kill. The 'Squire fixed no bail on this charge, committing the defendant to the county jail for a hearing on Thursday, May 20. There is another warrant charging assault resisting an officer which will be served later.

CAPTIAN PETER C. HAINS. CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Famous Murder Trial at Flushing, N. Y. Ended Last Evening.

The jury which heard the evidence in the case of the State of New York vs. Captain Peter C. Hains Jr., for the murder of William Annis last August, Tuesday night about 5 o'clock returned a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree.

The case was similar to the Thaw—White tragedy, and has attracted world wide attention. The defense endeavored to prove that Hains was insane when he shot Annis to death. Annis had been on too friendly terms with the wife of Hains, who was a captain in the United States army, having served with distinction in many engagements in the Phillipines.

Dr. John M. Carnochan Honored.

The many friends of Dr. John M. Carnochan, a former Towandian, will be interested to know that he has been made a member of the faculty of Princeton University. This honor came to the Doctor some months ago. Some little time since President Woodlow Wilson of the university, gave a reception at which Dr. and Mrs. Carnochan were guests of honor.

DETECTIVE HOLLON IS RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Plucky Officer Badly Battered But Still in the Business.

Detective Guy C. Hollon, who was terribly injured by Burt Chilson Friday night, is much improved and will fully recover. Saturday morning his condition was alarming, but during the forenoon he rallied greatly and yesterday was in good shape, although too weak from loss of blood to leave his bed at the Ochs house.

That the plucky detective was not killed by the brutal Chilson, is due to Perry W. Parks, and two ladies who were with him. Mr. Parks and the ladies begged of Chilson not to kill the officer, who was then lying unconscious on the concrete walk at the East end of the covered wagon bridge. Chilson had kicked the unconscious officer a number of times.

Chilson, who is a powerfully built young fellow, went to the home of Ernest Pickett at the foot of Court street Friday night and assaulted Mrs. Pickett. The husband arrived on the scene and took his wife's part, but was no match for the burly Chilson. Pickett went to the office of Detective Hollon and secured the services of the officer. Arriving at the Pickett home the officer learned that Chilson was hiding about the premises, and immediately started a search. While he was looking in one room, Chilson slipped out of the house and made for the bridge pursued by the detective. At the East end of the structure, the officer overtook the fugitive, and told him to come back over town and he would see that he got bail and that the case would be fixed up.

Detective Hollon had went on Chilson's bond on several occasions, and had befriended him in more ways than one, and would have done so again. While trying to convince Chilson that the best thing to do was to come back over town, and make peace with Pickett, the young brute struck at the officer, who warded off the first blow with his cane. This enraged Chilson and he struck the officer a terrible blow in the face, rendering him unconscious. Then he started to kick the body, and Perry W. Parks of East Towanda, who came along, took hold of Chilson and pulled him away. Chilson turned on Mr. Parks, who seeing he was no match for the brute, started and ran, pursued by Chilson. At the overhead railroad bridge, Chilson turned back, and was followed by Mr. Parks and two ladies.

Chilson started to kick the unconscious officer again, and Mr. Parks and the ladies pleaded with him to desist as he was killing the officer. He stopped, and in a few minutes Detective Hollon recovered sufficiently to get on his feet.

While he stood leaning against the railing along the walk, Chilson went close to him, and seeing the blood on the officer's face, broke down and commenced to cry, saying that he had struck his best friend. Then the officer took hold of him and started across the bridge, with Chilson crying.

About half way across the bridge, Chilson had a turn of heart, and again became enraged saying that he would go to jail for two years, and he might as well kill the officer, be hung and have it all over with. He begged for a gun to shoot the officer, and as he was about to attack him again, Detective Hollon drew his revolver and told Chilson if he attempted to strike him again he would shoot him dead in his tracks. Mr. Parks hurried on over town and 'phoned for Chief Miller, who was at his home on South Main street. Under threat of being shot, Chilson accompanied Detective Hollon to the corner of Pine street in front of Long's store.

About this time Chief Miller arrived on the scene, being whisked from his home up town by W. E. Dayton who was returning from Monroeton in his auto. When the chief came up, Chilson stood in the midst of a crowd, with his hat off, and was declaring that the entire police force could not put him in jail.

The chief didn't take Chilson's defi seriously, and laid violent hands upon him. Chilson commenced to struggle, and Special Officer Graham took hold of him also. There was some danger of Chilson getting one of his feet through one of Long's plate glass windows and to quiet him down, Chief Miller tapped him with his mace. This made Chilson defiant, and he wanted to be killed, but another tap of the chief's headache producer made him squak like a calf, and he walked along. He wanted to stop in front of the laundry, but was not allowed and was dropped into jail without further trouble.

On Saturday he was arraigned before 'Squire Meredith on the charge of assault and battery upon Mrs. Pickett, and in default of bail went back to jail for a hearing next Saturday before the 'Squire. Chilson gave his age as 22, but it is believed by the officers that he is about three years under that. He is of powerful build, and with a little liquor on board, is quite hard to handle.

It is thought that he struck Detective Hollon with something other than his fist as the skin on the officer's nose was not broken, yet the bones were smashed.

CANTON MAN KILLS HIMSELF

ENDS HIS EXISTENCE IN AN ELMIRA HOVEL

Weak and Emanciated From Two Years' Illness With White Plague, He Summons Enough Strength to Get Head Through Noose Which Chokes Out Life.

Clarence Fox, 58 years of age, and a native of Canton, this county, ended his miserable existence in an Elmira hovel on Thursday morning of last week. He had been ill with tuberculosis for the past two years, and death, even though self inflicted, was a relief from earthly sufferings.

The suicide's surroundings were deplorable in the extreme. For the past month he had lived in the unsanitary miserable quarters. His body was found about 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning by Mrs. Nellie McKinley in whose house he lived. The coroner was notified but there was little need of an inquest as it was a clear case of suicide.

Fox had been a habitue of the "Avenue," Elmira's notorious dive street, for years. He had never been a success in life. His brother, F. D. Fox, an employee of Seigle & Cooper's store in Chicago, had endeavored to induce him to go to Chicago where he would secure him a lucrative position. Clarence refused to do this seeming to prefer the dissipated life of the Elmira dives. For the past two years he had been ill of pulmonary tuberculosis and for the past month had been confined to his bed. His room in the McKinley homestead was a small affair with a slanting ceiling, six feet high at one end and but four feet at the opposite side. The room was lighted and ventilated by a small window, with pasteboard substituted for glass while the walls were covered with dirt begrimmed paper that was patched in places with newspapers.

In this room on a bed covered with scanty clothing and surrounded by a foul atmosphere Clarence Fox had been on his back for a month. He was so weak that he could hardly get out of bed. His weight had decreased to about 75 pounds and he could scarcely eat any food. He was furnished with whiskey from his pals on the outside who would pass the liquor up to him by means of a cord which he held out of his window. He had wanted to die for weeks. He tried to commit suicide a month ago by drinking a half pint of arnica. He vomited the drug before its effects had overcome him. One day recently he tried to eat all the quarter grain morphine tablets he had in the box from which his regular supply was taken. Mrs. McKinley stopped him in the attempt.

He appeared to be restless Wednesday night and Mrs. McKinley kept watch over him until 2 o'clock on Thursday morning when he asked for his pipe and tobacco. Mrs. McKinley left him then and it is presumed that he suicided soon after. The cord he used was the same with which whisky had been raised to him by his companions. After tieing the rope to the head of his bedstead he put his head through the noose and then pushed the pillows from underneath. He was found about 6:30 o'clock in the morning by Mrs. McKinley.

Coroner Westlake turned the remains over to undertaker W. C. Harrington. The man had been furnished with money by his brother in Chicago who had also paid Mrs. McKinley for his maintenance. The funeral expenses will be paid by the brother also.

A County Controller.

Among the measures passed by the legislature was a bill providing for the office of county controller in counties of the Commonwealth where such office is not now in existence upon petition to the court of said county of twenty-five per cent. of the number of votes who voted at the November election preceeding the date of the petition. This bill is intended to abolish the office of county auditor, and makes it elective with the people and voters whether they would have a controller or auditor.

VANDERPOOL—CARR CASE ATTRACTED BIG CROWD.

Terry Township Brawl Had Airing in Justice Meredith's Court Saturday

The case of the Commonwealth vs. John Carr, Clarence Carr and Mrs. Miner Vanderpool, charged with assault and battery and surety of the peace by Daniel Vanderpool, a wealthy resident of Terry township, was given an airing in Justice Meredith's court on Saturday. The 'Squire after hearing the evidence, held John and Clarence Carr to court in the sum of $100 bail each, which was furnished, and dismissed the case against Mrs. Vanderpool. Over 100 people from Terry township were in attendance at the hearing.

The trouble grows out of a long standing feud between the Carrs and the Vanderpools, who are related by intermarriages. On April 16, Daniel Vanderpool, who is an old man, was doing some work in the cellar of his tenement house which is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Miner Vanderpool. John Carr and his son, Clarence Carr, drove along the road, and stopped in front of the Miner Vanderpool home. Mrs. Miner Vanderpool is a daughter of John Carr and the sister of Clarence, defendants in this case. Clarence Carr had loaned a saw to his brother-in-law, Miner Vanderpool, and their stop in front of the premises was for the purpose of getting the saw which they wished to use.

Clarence went into the house, and finding no one around went into the cellar, where Daniel Vanderpool was working. The old Carr-Vanderpool feud was raked up and one word brought on another, until Daniel ordered Clarence out of the cellar. He refused to go, and in the fight which ensued, Daniel struck Clarence on the head with ash ovel three times, making bad gashes. Then Clarence got the old man down, whereupon Mrs. Miner Vanderpool hearing the disturbance rushed into the cellar and succeeded in parting the combattants.

Clarence was badly injured by the blows on the head with the shovel and had to be helped back to the wagon. That night his condition became alarming and he was taken to Wyalusing, where Dr. Terry foundt hat his skull had been cracked. He had recovered sufficiently to be around, was in attendance at the hearing Saturday, but expects to go to the Packer hospital in a few days for an operation on his skull.

Daniel Vanderpool came to Towanda the day following the fight, swore out warrants for the Carrs and Mrs. Miner Vanderpool, charging them with assault and battery and surety of the peace. Constable Hollon made the arrests and the hearing was deferred until such a time as Clarence Carr could be in attendance. That was Saturday, and now the case will go to the grand jury and will be given another airing.

For Lameness in Horses

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first signs of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness — limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Sloan's Liniment

will kill a spavin, curb or splint, reduce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, sweeney, founder and thrush. Price, 50c. and $1.00.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER

Rev. Levi Morse.

Rev. Levi Morse, who organized the Athens Baptist church and was its first pastor, died at the Nugent Home for Aged Baptist clergymen in Germantown, Philadelphia, April 15, 1909, from the infirmities incident upon his advanced age, which was nearly ninety two years. He came to Athens in 1844 directly after his graduation from Madison university, to become pastor of the church which he had previously organized there spending his vacations in that work. He built the first church edifice which was in later years torn down to make place for the present building at the corner of Elmira and Centre streets. He remained at Athens five years until he had organized a harmonious church with a membership of 112 with a good edifice in which to worship. He was born in Jefferson, N. Y., in 1817, and graduating from Madison university at the age of twenty seven years, he spent more than sixty years in the active ministry, and never in that time was he without a charge. His last pastorate was at Newtown Square Pa., which he resigned ten years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Drphia Smith, of Grand Island, Fla., and several grandchildren. He was an uncle of George W. Morse, of Athens.

James McKean.

James McKean, a well known and highly respected resident of Burlington, died Thursday, May 6, at his home at that place, after several months illness. He is survived by his wife, who is convalescing after a long illness, one son, Ernest McKean of Elmira, one brother, W. D. McKean, and two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Stanton of Forksville, and Mrs. Wagner. TRAINING HINTS.

Some Pointers For the Athletes Who Will Run in Six Mile Race.

The following suggestions are for the young men who are preparing to take part in the great six mile race on the Marathon plan to be held in Towanda on old home day, Friday, June 25:

Not only should the athlete have his arms and body covered in his practice, but he should likewise wear a loose fitting pair of long woolen trousers, and he should have his feet well protected, by strong soles, from the pebbles and hard road, and thus avoid bruises.

While the man running feels warm, his arms and shoulders being exposed to the cold air it is very easy for him to contract rheumatism and colds, which will result later in life in much pain and discomfort.

The training should be started with long walks at a rapid gait with frequent jogs, and the distance of the jog should be gradually increased until by the 15 of June every contestant can safely jog at about two-thirds his best speed the full course of six miles without great inconvenience. He should be especially sure to cover up warmly after his work, and after his heart and lungs have resumed their normal rhythm, and his temperature has become normal, to be rubbed down in a warm room, free from draughts, after which he should rest in bed warmly covered up for at least an hour.

Since the race is to be in the forenoon, the best time to train for this race is at that period.

Tobacco and liquor should be avoided, as no man can get in his best condition and partake of these things; especially is this true of the young athlete who has not formed the habit of depending upon these stimulants.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate questionings and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

A SOLID FOUNDATION.

There is a lot of money in the banks of Scranton. The recent statements of the banks of that city show there is on deposit in them the sum of $34,580 291.38, and in the First National alone the sum is $9,903.463 09. And it is not so very many years ago that Scranton was only Slocum Hollow and more or less a swamp. Sure the coal find was a big one. But "cold cash" isn't absolutely everything, and other things help even up. In the anthracite coal regions one of the grave dangers that threaten stable values in real estate are mine cave-ins, and the danger increases yearly. There is no loss without some gain, and if Bradford county real estate hasn't got millions of dollars in value under it in the shape of coal beds, our broad acres of farming land are based on a foundation that reaches through to the other side of the old earth and is solid as the planet itself. We can laugh at the suggestion of cave-ins, and need only look serious when earthquakes are mentioned, and not very serious then, for we've never had one and it would be borrowing trouble in a most ridiculous way to worry about that. We can go to bed at night and feel all confidence that the farm or the back yard won't disappear and leave only a hole in the ground before next morning, and that is what they can't do down Wilkes-Barre, Pittston and Scranton way. The matter of surface protection has come to be a most serious matter in the anthracite region, and it is to be regretted that proposed legislation dealing with the problem was stifled at the recent session of the legislature.

As to the utility of the coal regions, we couldn't do without them. One of the best purposes they serve is to furnish an unexcelled market for Bradford county farm produce.

KEEPING HIM STRAIGHT.

As a side issue the slaughter of the beautiful gazelle and the melancholy "wildebeeste" might have been all right. But to begin the campaign on such inoffensive game when the tall grass is said to be overrun by defiant lions, elephants and rhinoceroses seems a grave error. It is to be hoped that Mr. Roosevelt will invite no more criticism by wasting ammunition on game that can just as well be killed with a club. Let this hunting expedition be conducted with dignity and discretion. The scale upon which this hunt has been planned should make the "sport" of killing anything under the grade of the white rhinoceros look like the work of a pothunter.

The above is from a contemporary and was written before hunter Roosevelt had brought down his big game of the last few days. Now that the lions have bit the dust we presume the writer feels better. Some of these newspapers are hard to please. They supervised Roosevelt when he was president and now that he has gone hunting they have taken the responsibility of the expedition on themselves, and are telling him what kind of game to kill and how to conduct himself generally in the wilds of Africa. None of them has ever been there but they know all about it there is to be known, and if the strenuous ex-president gets killed or hurt, or does anything he should not do, or leaves undone anything he should do, commits any breach of jungle etiquette, or in any way compromises the great nation of which he is a representative, it will not be because he was not sufficiently instructed by the American press. But there is one thing that may interfere with the efficacy of these instructions—the mighty hunter don't pay any attention to them.

Bradford county was, we believe, organized as a county in the year 1812 and it is quite likely the Bradford County Historical Society will take steps to celebrate the county's centennial in 1912, but there is plenty of time yet in which to prepare for it. If we were like the Boston people we would have begun several years ago. The three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims will occur in 1920, and the Boston newspapers are already getting excited over the coming event. The suggestion that it will take ten or eleven years to work up enough enthusiasm in that city to insure a proper celebration of the Plymouth Rock anniversary is not complimentary to the patriotism and intelligence of Boston.

The fact that the Pennsylvania state pardon board has granted but two pardons and four rehearings out of a list of thirty cases recently submitted indicates that the pardon board isn't in the pardoning business as extensively as it once was, and the change is for the better.

FINISHING THE JOB.

The present is a week of considerable importance in Pennsylvania affairs as Governor Stuart has until next Saturday in which to dispose of the bills passed by the late legislature. The thirty day limit will expire on that day. The governor has held back until the final week the most important bills of the session. Beside scaling down the appropriations from $67,000,000 to about $47,000,000 he has on his desk for approval or veto the following important measures: The school code, judges' salary increase bill, state highway form Philadelphia to Pittsburg, the pure food bill, capitol park extension, and a few others. The school code is a measure of great importance. Residents of Philadelphia are naturally against it because it will greatly increase their taxes, but as regards its merits in its application to the school system of Bradford county we have reason to believe that it is a good measure, and that if Governor Stuart shall see fit to approve it the change effected in our school laws will be for the better.

We don't know of anything good that can be said of the judges' salary increase bill, nor have we read or heard of anyone else who thinks well of it or has cared or dared to say a word in its favor. In its application to Bradford county it would raise the judge's salary from $5,000 to $7,000, and it was raised from $4,000 to $5,000 within the term of the present judge—about six years ago. Five thousand dollars a year is enough to pay our judge, and good men are anxious for next year's nomination with the salary at that figure. Has anyone ever been heard to say that our common pleas judges were underpaid? The proposed increase is unreasonable and entirely uncalled for. It is a disgrace that such a bill has been passed by the legislature, and we trust Governor Stuart will kill it with a hard veto. The quality and character of the men who sit in judgment in our courts will not be improved by the payment of large salaries.

Let the judges of our courts aspire to the bench because of the honor and the dignity that attaches to the place, rather than because of a large salary. As to what the governor will do with the bill as also with the school code, he has been silent. It is now reported that close friends of his believe the judges' salary bill is doomed. They advance two reasons for this aside from the question of whether the increases are warranted. One is that Governor Stuart is not in sympathy with increasing salaries, as he has already shown. The other is that the condition of the state's finances precludes approval of the bill. Both good reasons, sure, and may the governor's friends be right in their guesses. About the Philadelphia-Pittsburg highway. This was the governor's project, and now that he has formally announced that he has got to reduce expense in order to avoid a deficit, he will have to cut his own bill. Let it be done. This section of the state, not coming in for any of the benefits of the scheme, says cut it all to pieces—cut it out entirely. We hardly think that will be done, but it is hinted at. He is credited with having decided to reduce the figures from $5,000 000 to $2,000 000, and possibly to $1,000,000. But that at least one of the biggest reductions in any single appropriation bill will be made by the governor to the state highway measure is accepted in well informed circles as inevitable. The time is almost up and we shall soon know.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Pennsylvania is all right financially, although it has a bad sound to say that the governor is hard at work this week trying to avoid a deficit. Auditor General Young has helped to better the condition of the state's financies by a decision, given last week, that will doubtless save the commonwealth thousands of dollars annually. He holds that the state is not authorized to pay for the maintenance of criminal insane, either in state or local asylums. It has been customary to include all the insane in the state maintenace accounts, without distinction as to whether they were indigent or criminal. The decision of the auditor general was followed by instructions to his traveling auditors to henceforth make returns only of indigent insane. The criminals in the state and local asylums will have to be maintained by the counties to which they belong, as other criminals are now maintained in state penitentiaries. While this will result in a saving to the state it will increase the expense of counties, and Bradford will come in for her share of it. The taxpayers will not object. As between an increased expense on account of criminal insane—which will fall directly on the county, and an increased expense on account of a raise in the judge's salary—which falls directly on the state, Bradford county taxables would prefer the former. The former is a reasonable and natural item of cost that cannot rightly be avoided, and the latter is a piece of impudence and effrontery, a bold imposition, and of the nature of a fraud.

Ex-Governor Pennypacker is about to plant ten acres with forest trees on his Schuylkill farm as an example to the surrounding farmers, declaring that at the present high price of lumber no better investment can be made as a source of profit.

Steubenville, Ohio, a city of 25,000 which recently voted dry under the Ohio local option law, gave birth to a peculiar incident the other day. A murder trial was on, and one of the jurors fainted. One of his companions in the jury box asked for whiskey, and in spite of the "dryness" of the city, 28 of the spectators in the court room came forward with flasks of whiskey which they carried in their hip pockets. This does not speak very well of Ohio's local option law.

OLD AND NEW ORCHARDS.

According to Bulletin No. 91 on orchard fertilization issued by the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Experiment Station, young orchards yield better under what is known as the "sod-mulch" and "sod-treatment," while the matured trees yield best with tilling and cover crop. According to the table printed in the bulletin, a young orchard yielded unfertilized 23,669 pounds and when manured 41,532 pounds; with commercial fertilization 34,316 pounds. An experiment with manured or old orchard showed the reverse, having yielded, unfertilized, in fruit for two years 34,635 pounds; with commercial fertilization, 34,316 pounds. The young orchards seem to have responded to the fertilization treatment while the old orchards apparently did not. Both commercial fertilizers and stable manure show distinct benefits in the yields of the young orchards.

For further information in regard to orhcard fertilization we would suggest to the farmer reades of The Review that they send to State College, Center county, Pa., for Bulletin No. 91. These bulletins are free and contain a vast amount of valuable information to agriculturists and orchardists.

OFFICES GO TO LOWEST BIDDER.

East Stroudsburg has established an innovation and possibly a record by way of filling borough appointments, thereby giving them to the lowest bidder. It has obtained a water superintendent at $45 a month, a borough secretary at a salary of $125 a month, and a borough solicitor or attorney at $25 a month.

The League of American Municipalities, in commenting upon this scheme, declares that after several weeks' trial the citizens of East Stroudsburg maintain that the plan has worked well. There is no reason why it should not be extended to all appointive offices. Offices are more or less purchased anyway and there is no reason why the people should not profit by securing for themselves the money which the candidates pay to a few political heelers to secure the public places. The plan might not be a cure-all for the many ill that beset the common body corporate, but it might effect a great saving.

We suspect there is something wrong with that old saying that corporations have no souls, because in the annual report of the pension department of the Pennsylvania railroad it is shown that since the department was established in 1900 the sum of $3,445,793.77 has been paid out in pensions to retired employes. In the year 1908, alone, $544,245.08 was paid to 2,000 retired employes. This is not a soulless record. Soulless corporations don't act in this way. On Dec. 31, 1908, the number receiving pensions was 2,176, or 156 more than in 1907.

The Superior court has decided that candidates for office can treat voters if they have been in the habit of treating them before becoming candidates. There is nothing left now but to declare the corrupt practices act a farce for it had already been made a nullity in almost every other feature.

The Wellsboro Republican Advocate notes that although the Democrats of that district are not saying much about it, it believes they are experienc ing confusion, sorrow, pain and disappointment over Congressman Wilson's recent vote for a tariff on lumber. And the Republican Advocate is allowing itself to indulge in the hope that the Democrats will help elect a Republican congressman next time. This is a vain hope. The Democrats won't do it. It isn't their way. At least they won't do it if they are like Democrats in this district. It has not been an unknown occurrence over this way for Republicans to turn in and help elect Democrats to congress, but Democrats forget the favor and give no return in kind. Perhaps it is not that they are ungrateful, but that, owing to the heavy preponderance of Republican votes, they deem it unnecessary. And it generally is unnecessary, but we have seen congressional campaigns when the assurance that the Republican column was to be reinforced by a Democratic contingent would have been most welcome. But Democrats vote straight here and we warn our contemporary in Tioga county that they will do about the same there. Democrats are very much like Democrats.

Hon. Mosses Shields, of Nicholson, is a candidate for State treasurer on the Republican ticket. Mr. Shields is a well known business man of this section, and during the recent Legislature has represented the Twenty-third district, comprising the counties of Susquehanna, Wyoming and Bradford, in the Senate. It is reported that Jeremiah A. Stober, of Lancaster county, is the choice of the State organization, but with the solid support of the Republicans in this section of the State back of him, it is not likely that Mr. Shields will give up the fight, while the chances of his winning out are good.—Montrose Republican.

That bunch of Pittsburg bribers that the court sent to jail the other day was a representative one—two councilmen, a bank president, a grog politician, and an ordinary go-between of no particular occupation. The only hopeful feature of the Pittsburg case is the awakened civic conscience that has demanded the punishment of these men.

Rumor has it that the Williamsport News and the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin are to consolidate and both papers be issued from one office. Politics are back of the scheme. Both papers are Republican.

NEWS PAPERS.

P. T. Barnum added to his fortune and his reputation by declaring that the American people like to be humbugged. Every day proves it and Sundays are especially powerful witnesses. The way people pore over metropolitan Sunday newspapers as if they were finding news there shows how much they appreciate being humbugged.—Hartford Courant.

Very true as a general rule. The Sunday papers can be divided into two classes—the good and bad; the former are few and the latter legion. New York has three of the first class; Philadelphia one or two. They can be distinguished by the absence or presence of a vast amount of colored slush, and especially the presence of the so-called comic supplement which is a rank burlesque on wit and humor and has a tendency to make our bad boys and girls worse.

It is a historical fact that the Turk is a squatter in Europe, and it is unnatural for him to be there. The sooner he is driven or forced out the better for Europe, mankind and the peace of the world. If the present revolution results in turning the Turk back to his natural and logical habitat the better for the nations. Of course this would lead to present trouble, as all Europe would wish a slice of the abandoned kingdom, and no doubt a fight would be the result. But this will come sooner or later at all events, and the world might as well have it over at once and be done with it. We Americans are not interested in the matter, save as it would hurt general prosperity to have a universal war over the remains of "the sick man of the East."

A SUGGESTIVE PRESBYTERIAN EPISODE.

The recent action of the New York Presbytery, in the case of three students from Union Theological Seminary who sought a license to preach, is of more than local or personal significance. There was no doubt of the scholarship or exceptional fitness of these young men. The objections arose from their replies to questions in theology.

They were rather sceptical or actual disbelievers in regard to certain theological points or else gave them a sort of interpretation decidedly heterodox and would have led Calvin to call for the stake or Jonathan Edwards to have declared the young men destined to be damned eternally.

They were away off from current orthodoxy in their views of the fall of Adam, miracles such as the raising of Lazarus, the doctrine of the Atonement, the divinity of Christ and so on.

In view of such sceptisicm, there can be no doubt that the ministers who were averse to receiving the candidates acted strictly within the literal provisions of the constitution of the Presbyterian Church.

Its articles are singularly exact, and the questions to which the examining clergymen expected affirmative answers are left in no uncertainty. If strict construction is to be the order of the day, the action of the Presbytery has ample justification.

On the other hand, Union Seminary is now ecclesiastically free, and its factulty contains scholars whose ability makes it foremost in modern theological education. It proposes education on thoroughly scientific grounds, searching for the truth and fearing no discovery.

The former friction between the Presbytery and the Seminary has been almost entirely overcome, and in no way accounts for the recent action.

The New York Evening Post in commenting on this matter of more than passing interest says: "The issue is really between inherited formularies and the mores of thought which now hold sway. The tendency to avoid affirming as fact what seems beyond the limits of knowledge is irresistable. It influences students for the ministry and many ministers themselves. At such a time, one could hope for a wide insistence upon the personal qualities and experience of ministerial candidates. Fortunately, this has already taken place to some extent. President Francis Brown, of Union Seminary, has stated its position in declaring that the present situation of the church demands training for its ministers in modern ways of thought; and that to educate ministers today exactly as in other days, is to equip them with armour fit to withstand arrows,, but in which they must face bullets that are deadly at a thousand yards."

Teachers in the grade schools at El Paso, Texas, exclusive of principals, substitutes, special and negro teachers, are paid an average of $78.35 a month for nine months of the year. The salaries of principals in the ward schools range from $110 to $150 a month and the average salary for heads of departments at the high school is $133.33 a month and that of assistants $100. In view of all that, we can slightly change the advice of Horace Greeley and say to the pretty schoolmarm of Pennsylvania—"Young woman go to Texas."—Lancaster Examiner.

Kidnapper Boyle got a life sentence for stealing Willie Whitla, and his charming and talented wife will spend a quarter of a century in the penitentiary for her part in the job. And yet there are a few who say that there is no law in this state.

Judging from the start made by the drill squads of the Towanda fire companies, the finest volunteer department in America will make a great showing at Wellsville, and also on the annual parade and inspection to be held in Towanda.

A wise man taketh his umbrella in a fair day, for he knoweth not what an hour may bring forth. It may be rain, hail, sleet, snow or sunstroke.

THE PARADOX OF FRIENDSHIPS.

Some one writing in a current magazine remarks: "What we truly enjoy in each other is likeness, not unlikeness. That is what makes the pleasure of good society. There is no rest save on the common ground. If I meet a man of different tradition, different religion, different race, different language, I am pleased with him for a moment as I should be with a fairy or an amiable goblin, but he presently bores me, when the surprise of him is over. I find that we have no common ground. The perpetual yearning of our hearts is for intelligent response, and this can come only from our equals, from equality."

There is a certain amount of truth in this, but experience shows the tendency to mate with opposites.

The short man generally chooses a tall woman; the fair man a brunette and brilliant men often dull wives.

Did not Moleeri read his plays first to his cook? Pray who were the favorites of Goethe but rather stolid lady friends.

One of the things hard to account for in social life is the strange contrast between intimate friends and married folks. The assertion is everlastingly being made: "Well, I do not see what she or he can admire in so and so."

Friendship is a very peculiar and subtle thing. It knows no wherefore in its formation and yet a trifle breaks it. "The course of true love never runs smooth."

Intellectual men do not wish their counterparts for friends. It is the man with new ideas who is sought after. When one has exhausted another's mental store he ceases to be interesting.

Of what use is it to talk politics to a man whose answer you can tell be forehand? Nature abhors monotony and loves the picturesque. So does man. Savage life is a very narrow one, for it has few thoughts and employments.

All think alike, act alike and die alike. It is only when dissimilarity in mental make-up occurs that real living begins.

Talent and genius are the products of civilization and this means infinite variety. If there were no contrasts there would be no life worth the name

If all were millionaires or Edisons, who would do the world's rough work and save us from barbarism?

FARMERS AND GOOD ROADS.

Better roads, according to those who have been studying the country life improvement question, constitute the reform which would do most to advance the material and social welfare of the farmers. Following the report of the Country Life Commission appointed by former President Roosevelt, the National Grange, which claims title as the original "Good Roads Assocoiation," has started a fresh campaign to enlist National and State aid in improved highway construction.

A bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture shows the direct connection between good roads and the value of farm lands. An investigation mileage, revenues, improved roads and expenditures in the United States in the year 1904. In nearly every case, it is shown, States having the highest precentage of improved roads have the largest population per mile of road, indicating that better roads are a powerful factor in encouraging the settlement of unused lands, especially in sparsely populated sections of the country.

It is held, further, that good roads are an important influence in retaining upon the farms desirable elements that otherwise might seek the towns and cities. The logic of this contention lies in the fact that good roads increase farm values, and thus lessen an incentive to seek material advancement away from the soil.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A GOOD OLD CUSTOM.

"The bells of Hartford tolled a knell for Governor Lilley, with forty-nine strokes, in designation of the number of years of his life; a good old country custom," says the Worcester Gazette. "The tolling of the bells in such announcement has in many places passed from common use. To those who have felt the solemn inspirations of the 'passing knell,' even amidst the distraction of city turmoil, there are reminders in the action at Hartford that a general revival of the custom would not be amiss." Beautiful and solemn as is the tolling of a bell, still in our day it could scarcely be revived in cities, where the aim now is to suppress and not increase noise.

The living must be considered as well as the dead; the sick and passing as well as those who have gone on the final journey. If bells were tolled generally for the dead there would be a ceaseless clang in every city of any size. The custom might be resurrected in the country, where the solemn tones of the church going bell would not disturb the multitude.

An Atchison girl had a proposal of marriage recently and asked a week to think it over. She went to all of her married sisters. One who used to be a belle, had three children, did all her own work and hadn't been to theater or out riding since she was married. Another, whose husband was a promising young man at the time she was married, was supporting him. A third didn't dare say her life was her own when her husband was around, and a fourth divorced. After visiting them and hearing woes, the heroine of this little tale went home, got pen ink and paper and wrote an answer to the young man. You may think it was refusing him, but it wasn't. She said could be ready in a month.—Atchison Globe.

The Luzerne County Court recently imposed an exemplary sentence upon a junk dealer who had been convicted of buying stolen goods. Judge Fuller, who pronounced the sentence, declared that any man who made a habit of buying valuable articles from boys at a price far below their value must know that the goods were stolen. For that reason he felt that the prisoner before him was righteously convicted and had earned the sentence that was coming to him. There are men engaged in other occupations or business who sometimes follow the same business practices.

Whatever may be the real character of the fly, he has certainly been in discreet, and has imprudently involved himself in a chain of circumstantial evidence. For instance, in Brooklyn the investigators set up some fly cages. During the week ended June 6, 1908, there were fifty deaths from intestinal diseases, and 55 flies were caught. By July 4, there had been 212 deaths and 2,000 insects were captured, thus proving, so the fly catchers declare, that the increase of disease was due to the increase of flies.

The Shern child bill, passed by the recent legislature and just approved by Governor Stuart, is generally commended and without doubt is a worthy measure. Under it there should be a notable lessening of the abuse to which young wage earners have been subjected. Hereafter it will be difficult for the greedy parent to put his child under fourteen years of age to work.

We want to compliment District Attorney Mitchell upon the way he performs his duties as district attorney. He is earnest and energetic, and endeavors to cut down expenses wherever and whenever possible, and that he is succeeding in his efforts the court records will prove.

Now we come to the month of blossoms. Sometimes it is a very pleasant month and a very beautiful one. Sometimes it is quite as tearful as April. But, whatever the weather this particular May has in store for us, there ought to be enough of pleasure in it to make us all glad we're living.

BISHOP TALBOT HERE.

A large and enthusiastic congregation assembled in Christ Church Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. Edwin A. Gernant. The Right Reverend Ethelbert Talbot, D. D. LL. D., Bishop of Central Pennsylvania, administered the sacramental rite of Apostolic Confirmation to thirteen persons—five of these being married—presented by the Rector, by whom also they had been previously prepared and instructed.

The sermon was preached by the Bishop, the text being the 24:32 St. Luke. Both it and the address to the candidates were characterized by the strength and practical directness of teaching which always distinguish the utterances of this eloquent prelate. Many of the members of the congregation greeted their beloved Diocesan after the service.

The Bishop, the Rector, the Vestry and their families, and the newly-confirmed were subsequently entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Spalding in their new home on York avenue.

General Booth's Message.

General William Booth, whose eightieth birthday was celebrated recently, has replied to the scores of congratulatory cablegrams from state governors, mayors of leading cities, and other men of prominence with the message to the American people. The message is as follows:

"After spending eighty years in this world with almost countless opportunities for observing the purpose for which men generally live and the disappointments they so commonly suffer, it seems reasonable that I should have formed some opinion as to the course they should follow.

"If the American people will seek the honor of God, the reign of righteousness, the welfare of the friendless poor, the riches that endure forever, with the same selfsacrificing avidity with which they seek the wealth and pleasures of this world, they will have a good chance of finding that life of satisfaction which now so often eludes them."

OH, WHY MY HEART.

Oh, why my heart, this sad unrest,
Why taunt me with such dire behest
Dost thou not know that hope has fled,
And thou hast left me sear and dead?
In memory dear, I hold thee like the fragrance of some sweet flower,
Whose petals loosed by changing winds
Quickly droped by a passing shower.

Then taunt me not with one request
To live with love and hope bereft,
For life is naught, when these have fled,
And thou art with my early dead.
Yes, with my love I buried thee,
And must wait until my flower
Springs up in everlasting life,
And blossoms in heaven's bower.

FIFTY-FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

Naiad Hose Company Enjoyed Annual Banquet Thursday Evening.

BRIEF HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE COMPANY

Was Organized in 1855 and After Over Half a Century is Still One of the Best Companies in the Far Famed Towanda Fire Department.

The fifty-fourth anniversary banquet of Naiad Hose company No. 2, one of Towanda's finest and most efficient fire fighting organizations, was held in the company's parlors in the Welles building Thursday evening.

The rooms of the company have been repapered and painted, and made bright and inviting throughout. Large leather chairs have been placed in the rooms, and everything is arranged to the best advantage to make the home of the Naiads one of the most comfortable and best appointed of any organization of it's kind in this section.

Preceding the banquet, the annual election of officers was held, the result being as follows:

President—H. L. Holcombe.
Vice president—M. S. Cronk.
Secretary—A. P. Watson.
Treasurer—C. L. Felton.
Foreman—H. E. Post.
First Assistant—George Fairchild.
Second Assistant—C. H. Maryott.
Pipemen—H. J. VanAuken, Henry Felton, Charles Chamberlain, George H. Trapp.
Hydrantmen—C. L. Felton, A. P. Watson, Perley Foster, Harvey McGill.
Fire Police—A. E. Coolbaugh, A. P. Watson, Raymond Eilenberger.
Drillmaster—Harry Wilcox.
Delegate to Seven County convention—C. P. Welles.
Alternate—A. E. Coolbaugh.
Trustee—C. P. Welles.
Member Fire Board—T. E. Wood.

The Banquet.

At the banquet following the election, about 60 well groomed, and appetite endowed firemen and guests gathered around the festive board and enjoyed a spread such as Frank J. Kline, the well known caterer is in the habit of serving. The menu consisted of cold ham, new potatoes en creame, sliced tomatoes, brown bread, white bread, chicken salad, olives, wafers, ice cream, cake and coffee. It was a repast fit for a king, and no one shoved back from the mahogany without his fill.

In addition to the members of the company, a number of invited guests from the other companies, and a few others were present. Those from out of town present were Francis Donlin of Laquin, Roland Benjamin of Sayre, and W. D. Young of Tunkhannock.

After the inner man had been satisfied, cigars were lighted, then followed a flow of oratory, or something like that. H. L. Holcombe, president of the Naiads, introduced Charles M. Culver, Esq., a well known attorney, who in a graceful and brilliant manner officiated as toastmaster. The speeches while impromptu, were appropriate to the occasion and helped to enliven the gathering. Those who spoke were: Charles H. Allen, one of the original and also charter members of the Naiads, Charles P. Welles, Burgess Frost, Hugh B. Mears, chief engineer of the department, J. B. Gay, secretary of Lin-ta Hose company, Thomas Meredith, Dr. F. J. Kingsley, U. G. Baker, W. K. Betts, H. L. Holcombe, and Mr. Delpeuch.

Brief History of the Company.

It being the fifty-fourth anniversary of this fine company, a brief history of the organization will not be amiss.

The present Naiad Hose company, No. 2, was organized on April 24, 1855, as Naiad Fire company, No. 2. The first officers were Joseph Kingsbury, foreman; Charles Mercur, secretary; and O. D. Goodenough, treasurer.

The charter members of the company known to be now living are Hon. Thomas Ryan of Washington, D. C., Capt. J. W. Means and Charles H. Allen of Towanda, and Jethro Payne of Monroeton. Mr. Allen is the only one who has had continuous membership and is still on the rolls.

The first engine used by the company was a Cowan, made at Seneca Falls, N. Y., and purchased by subscription, the original paper with the signatures being in the possession of the company. This engine was first used at a fire in Decker's grocery store in 1855, where the McIntosh block now stands. The "old tub," as it was called is being preserved by the company as a relic.

The company had its ups and downs and was re-organized in 1860, when Charles H. Allen was elected foreman. Again in 1870 it was re-organized with E. F. Smith, foreman; L. R. Frost, assistant and Charles P. Welles, secretary. Since this time the records of the company are complete, and the rolls contain the names of a majority of the men who have been prominent in Towanda business circles during that period.

A charter was secured in 1880 under the name of "Naiad Engine and Hose Company, No. 2," it being later changed to "Naiad Hose Company, No. 2," the present title.

The company now has an active membership of 49, and is in excellent condition in every way.

The banquet last evening was a fitting climax for 54 years of continuous activity in helping to prevent loss by fire in Towanda.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE W. F. M. SOCIETY.

Was Held at Wyalusing on Thursday, May 6—Officers Elected.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Towanda District of the Presbytery of Lackawanna, was held in the Wyalusing Presbyterian church on Thursday, May 6. There were 75 delegates present, representing the several auxiliaries, Mission Bands and C. E. societies. Everything seemed to combine to make the day enjoyable, and the sessions proved to be of great interest and profit to all in attendance.

The meeting was called to order at 10:15 a. m., by the President, Mrs. C. H. Ott of Sayre. Mrs. W. A. Sawtelle of Ulster, led the devotional services, which consisted of hymn, reading of scripture and several prayers. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. E. M. Cowell of Athens, the president appointed Mrs. C. W. Newman of Wyalusing, as secretary pro tem.

On behalf of the Wyalusing auxiliary Mrs. S. C. Adams welcomed the delegates to the town and to the homes and hearts of the people, and on behalf of the greatest movement of modern days—the missionary movement. She spoke of the pioneers of mission wark, of Morrison and Carey and how the very obstacles and hindrances to the work afterwards became its support. She mentioned briefly the other results of mission efforts, in art, science and commerce, thus making it the greatest force of all ages.

Mrs. Baldwin of Towanda, responded, referring to memories of former meetings in Wyalusing, and paying a tribute to those once active in the work but now passed to their reward. She thanked the Wyalusing ladies for the cordial welcome and hospitality.

Mrs. Ott, as the new president, made a few remarks on the greatest work in the world. She called attention to a large map of Lackawanna Presbytery, and speaking of the places where there are no auxiliaries and laying it upon the hearts and consciences of those living near such places, to make an effort to begin or renew work in them.

Miss Mary Bowen of Troy, gave the corresponding secretary's report and report of Young Peoples' work. She reported 13 auxiliaries, eight Mission Bands, eight C. E. societies, two Jr. C. E. societies, making a membership of 338 in auxiliaries, 235 in Bands, 301 in C. E. and 42 in Jr. C. E., or a total of 916, a gain of of 193 over last year. There are 60 copies of Woman's Work, and 43 of Over Sea and Land taken in the district. During the past year, there have been started two new Bands, one at Sayre and one at Stevensville, and a Jr. C. E. instead of the Excelsior Band at Athens. The report closed with some very pointed questions as to the support given the work by members of the auxiliaries.

Miss Jessie Murray of Athens, gave the report of the secretary of literature, part of which was combined in the foregoing report. She called attention to the Leaflets, the Prayer Calendar, and Missionary Literature in general, urging the secretaries of literature in the various auxiliaries to be more accurate, urgent and prompt in their work.

Miss Bowen read the treasurer's report, showing that $784.40 had been raised in the district during the past year. Of the four districts in the Presbytery, only two increased in amount over last year, and the Towanda district is one of the two.

Miss Marietta Meredith of Towanda, read a paper on "Chinese Recognition of Western Ideals." She spoke of the early condition of China, saying that the present awakening from its long sleep laid upon us a great responsibility. She contrasted the China of today with China of 50 years ago, in matters pertaining to travel, education, and commerce. She mentioned the anti opium movement and the assistance rendered by the Empress Dowager to many reform movements. The great need of China today is educated Christian leaders. Miss Bowen gave a brief talk on Mission Study classes, showing by a placard the increase of five years from 156 classes with a membership of 2,026, to 900 classes with a membership of 14,400.

The following committees were then appointed:

Nom. Committee—Mrs. Thurston, Mrs. Little and Mrs. W. B. Kennedy.
On Resolutions—Mrs. Gates, Mrs. M. C. Jones and Mrs. Petrie.
Auditing—Mrs. Morse, Miss Thomas and Mrs. Davis.

There was then held a short season of prayer for the martyrs on the mission field, after which the meeting adjourned for dinner.

The afternoon session was opened by devotional services led by Mrs. Stewart of Towanda, and consisted of singing, reading of scriptures and prayers by a number. Then came the roll call, the presentation of the Thank offering and of the contingent fund, at the same time the working delegate gave the report of the work done in the auxiliary which she represented during the past year. In every instance these reports showed progress, or at least the keeping up to the same standard of work and gifts despite adverse circumstances. Following these reports, Mrs. VonTobel offered a prayer of thankfulness for the increase of work among the children. After the singing of a hymn Mrs. Anna Welles, the Presbyterial President, gave a brief talk on "Hindrances to Missions," the two chief ones being thoughtlessness and disloyalty to the Board. The lack of investigation of the needs of the mission field today causes many women to retain the lowest standard of generosity, not giving according to the need. Disloyalty to the board is shown when new objects of work are taken up, good in themselves, but detracting from the fulfillment of pledges to the board which plans work according to the money pledged. This was appropriately followed by the reading of a poem, "What are you giving today?" by Mrs. H. C. Snitcher of Wyalusing. The thank offering was reported to be $57.30 and the contingent fund $30.90. It was then moved and carried that the officers be empowered to confer as to where the remainder of the money should be sent after all expenses are paid. Then came a solo by Mrs. Williams of Towanda, "I'm a Pilgrim," following which Dr. Mary Niles of Canton, China, was introduced. Dr. Niles is the head of the school for blind girls in Canton and told much that was interesting about the start and development of her work. She spoke of the customs of foot-binding and of opium smoking and made more realistic the efforts needed to break away from these habits of years. She has been blessed by seeing her girls go out of the schools to positions of honor and trust, despite their afflictions, closing with an appeal for at least the prayers of her hearers for her and her work.

Following this talk the various committees reported, and in each case the reports were accepted.

Mrs. Welles took the chair to receive the nominating committee which was as follows:

President—Mrs. C. H. Ott, Sayre.
First Vice President—Mrs. O. A. Baldwin, Towanda.
Second Vice President—Mrs. C. J. Lewis, Wyalusing.
Third Vice President—Mrs. James Wilkes, Stevensville.
Fourth Vice President—Mrs. Gates, Canton.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. E. M. Cowell, Athens.
Secretary of Literature and Young People's Work—Mrs. VonTobel, Athens.
Treasurer—Miss Blight, Towanda.

Mrs. Welles offiered an installation prayer for those just elected to office. In a brief speech of acceptance, Mrs. Ott thanked the ladies for the honor, called upon them for better work than ever, for larger gifts, the use of the prayer calendar and the installation of the uniform account system. Mrs. Welles also made a plea that more observe the hour of prayer for missions from five to six in the afternoon.

The committee on resolutions reported the usual thanks and appreciation to all whose endeavors had made the meeting a success.

The committee on place of meeting reported a cordial invitation to Canton for next year, which was accepted.

A motion to adjourn till the evening session was carried.

The evening session was in charge of the Rev. H. C. Snitcher, pastor of the church. After the singing of a hymn, Rev. M. L. Cook of Merryall, led in prayer, followed by the singing of another hymn and the reading of the scripture lesson from Acts II by the pastor. Then came a solo by Mrs. William Colt of Meshoppen, after which the Rev. John Craven of the Grant street Church, Wilkes-Barre, was introduced and made the address of the evening. He spoke of the difficulty of drawing a line between Home and Foreign missions, referring to the vast number of foreigners in the country. Basing his talk upon the scripture read, he traced the travels of Barnabas as far as Antioch noting that Barnabas traveled Westward, and claiming that western people today are debtors to Barnabas, to Paul and to Jesus Christ for the direction in which Christianity traveled. To pay that debt we should pass on the gospel. He mentioned the troubles among the Turks, contrasting the religion of Jesus Christ with the religion of Mahomet, and pronouncing the latter a failure by whatever standards judged. The first work by women should be for women, and in no other form is there so great a need, and such great returns as in Mission Work. The effect of the Moslem religion is not only debasing to women, but to men and children, because of the lack of pure home life.

Following this address, there was rendered a violin solo by Miss Susie Stone of Wyalusing, accompanied by Mrs. D. F. Pomeroy of Troy. The usual evening collection was taken after which the benediction was pronounced thus closing a most interesting day.

Better Times in Sayre.

The Lehigh Valley car shops will started on full time on Monday, and in a few days, 200 more men will be required Says the Sayre-Times-Record: "The Lehigh officers have decided to perform heavy repair work to cars in the local shops instead of having the repairs made by contract with manufacturing companies. In this vicinity there are about 3,000 cars standing on sidings awaiting heavy repairs. The company for months has been only doing light repair work, just enough to keep sufficient cars in good condition to handle traffic. But now traffic is improving daily, more cars are needed and the repair work must be pushed as rapidly as possible."

Ernest Schoonover Injured.

Ernest Schoonover, a former resident of Towanda, was seriously injured in the Sayre shops on Wednesday of last week, and has been confined to his home in Athens ever since. He was struck on the head by a piece of steel which rendered him unconscious for several hours. He is much improved, and will fully recover.

Destiny.

I go to prove my soul!
I see my path as birds their track less way—
I shall arrive!
What time, what circuit first,
I ask not!
In some time, his good time,
I shall arrive!
He guides me and the bird—
In his good time!
—Browning.

Governor Signs More Bills.

Governor Stuart on Thursday signed 22 more bills, and vetoed several. Three bills of general importance which have been made laws by the governor's signature are these: The Murphy bill, authorizing and empowering trolley companies to connect their tracks and interchange their cars, whether passenger or freight, with those of railroad companies, subject to the approval of local authorities, and limiting the time to ten years. The Shield bill, permitting trlley companies to carry all kinds of freight, subject to approval of local authorities, and limiting the time to ten years; and prohibiting the use of steam locomotives on trolley tracks. Increasing the cost of marriage licenses from 50c to $1. One of the bills vetoed by the governor is Senate bill No. 261—Giving the right to a jury to fix the penalty of murder in the first degree at life imprisonment.

Old Furniture.

Get a small can of L. & M. Home Finish Varnish all ready for use from Spalding Hardware Co. Clean the furniture with soap and water and wipe dry. Then apply one coat. It will make old furniture new at a cost of almost nothing.

Some women color both their cheeks red, but some men are contented to confine it to their nose.

Refreshless Refreshments.

A well known hotel man took a party of friends out for an automobile ride the other evening, and expecting a long trip had a large basket of refreshing refreshments prepared. The basket was given to the porter to put in the automobile, but a mistake was made in the cars and the refreshments landed wrong and were set aside. The automobile party sailed away toward Wysox, and just when things were going along nicely the car gave out and the party was held up while repairs were made. The hotel man then moved and seconded that it was time for refreshments, but a search revealed none of the promised refreshing refreshments. The disappointed landlord and the chaffeur both crawled under the machine and the language used in comparing notes would not taste very well in print.

Case Adjourned.

The taking of testimony in the case of Innes vs. McFadden and the West Virginia Pulp & Paper company, was completed in court room No. 2, Friday morning at 10:10. At the conclusion of the hearing of evidence, Judge Terry adjourned the case until such a time as the testimony has been transcribed, when he will hear the arguments of the attorneys. The hearing has occupied the attention of Judge Terry for the past two weeks.

Marathon Dinner Party

A dinner on the Marathon plan was enjoyed by a number of Athens and Sayre people Thursday evening of last week. The diners partook of two courses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Splann in Athens, two more courses at the home of J. B. Maney, at Athens, then went to Sayre and enjoyed two courses at the home of A. J. Hoag, and the last two courses were served at the home of Thomas O'Farrel in Sayre.

Ticket-of-Leave System.

Among the bills to become laws by the signature of Governor Stuart on Monday, is the act authorizing the release on probation of certain defendants instead of imposing sentences and the appointment of probation and parole officers. This bill deals humanely with certain convictions. The man who has never been in trouble before can be put on probation and allowed to pay his fine in installments. Penitentiary prisoners, after serving the minimum period of an indeterminate sentence, may be placed on parole. Leniency is not permitted in the more serious crimes, as murder, rape, kidnapping, etc.

Attending Peace Society Meeting.

Rev. W. S. H. Heermans started yesterday for Boston, where he will attend the annual meeting and dinner of the American Peace Society, of which he is a member. The annual meeting will be at 2 p. m., and the dinner at 6 p. m., on Thursday of this week. Bishop John W. Hamilton of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. Charles E. Beals, who will give a report of the recent Chicago National Peace Congress, are among the speakers. Rev. Heermans will visit his son, Dr. James Heermans in New York, and return to Towanda next Saturday.

NINE DROWNED IN RIVER NEAR PITTSTON.

Six Men, One Woman and Two Children Lost Lives Sunday Afternoon.

Six men, one woman and two children, all of them, with the exception of one man being from North Scranton, were drowned Sunday afternoon in the Susquehanna river at Port Griffith, near Pittston, through the capsizing of a row boat.

The catastrophe was the direct result of a search for refreshments, it is said by a survivor, by the members of the Scranton party, who had gone on a visit to a relative at Port Griffith, and, disappointed that this man had made no preparations for them, they started across the river in quest of better entertainment. The negligent host went along and he, too, was drowned.

All of the party were foreigners, and four of the nine were members of one family, which, through the accident, is wiped out of existence. Three of the four drowned men were brothers. The other man was related to these brothers. Of the two children, one was aged two years and one was aged four. The oldest of the two children by falling out of the boat while it was in midstream and the efforts of the others to rescue the child, caused the boat to capsize.

Landlord in Pulpit.

On Sunday evening, Landlord M. T. Hurlbut of the Exchange hotel, occupied the M. E. church pulpit, and gave out people a discourse on "How Oklahoma Went Dry." Mr. Hurlbut was a resident of Oklahoma during the struggle against demon rum, in which that same demon met defeat and was outlawed in that state. With this personal knowledge of his subject, and a rare gift of ability to present the matter forcefully and entertainingly, his hearers were highly edified. It is not a common thing for hotel keepers to speak from the pulpit, but Mr. Hurlbut seems to feel right at home there.—New Albany Mirror.

Burglary at Sayre.

Thursday night burglars entered the house occupied by John Oswald and family in Sayre. Entrance was affected by smashing the glass in the kitchen door and then releasing the night catch on the inside. The burglars had first rifled a refrigerator which stood on the back porch, securing five dozen eggs, five pounds of butter, five loaves of bread, a quantity of brown sugar and a bottle of catsup.

True Friends.

Sunday two Auburn men working on the Auburn division of the Lehigh went to the Packer hospital and gave some skin of their arms for the purpose of making grafts for Byron Lattimour, the fireman who was so badly burned in a wreck on that branch several weeks ago.

TWO MORE ENTRANTS FOR SIX MILE RACE.

Athletes Are Quietly Training For Big Event on Old Home Day.

Two more young men came to the front on Saturday and gave The Review their names as entrants for the big six mile race on the Marathon plan to be pulled off in Towanda on old home day, Friday, June 25. There are a large number of athletes quietly "working out" for the big event, and the chances are that before the entry list closes on Saturday evening, June 19, 100 runners will be in shape for the race.

Arrangements have nearly been completed with the Edison moving picture company for a man to be in Towanda to take pictures of the runners and the crowd in the City of Promise on the "big days." Another big feature which is more than likely to take place is the holding of the annual parade of the Towanda fire department on one of the home days or the old people's day. For the past few years the department has been holding its parade late in the fall when but few people were in town, the result being that only a few saw the march of "the finest." There will be a big crowd here in June and the laddies will make the hit of their lives by coming out.

Following is the complete list of entrants for the six mile race up to date:

Floyd K. Campbell	Towanda, Rfd. 6
Lee Payne	Towanda, Rfd. 6
John A Fox	Towanda, Rfd. 6
George Sammons	Towanda
Charles Stevens	Towanda
Audley Ryan	Towanda
Fred Springer	Towanda
Earl Sickler	Powell
E. A. Goodwin	Towanda, Rfd. 6
Orange Johnson	South Towanda
George Vanderpool	South Towanda
Charles Crandall	Towanda
Guy W. Cass	Orwell
Eli Vanderpool	Towanda
Delbert Vanderpool	Towanda
Orey Onweg	Laquin
Robert McCraney	Laquin
W. Ennis Kinsley	Towanda
Edward Carter	Towanda
Robert Gerould	Athens
E. Ashmun Parson, Jr.	Towanda
John Crimimns	Towanda
William Crandall	Towanda
Allen Kershner	Towanda
Manford Allen	Laquin
James Johnson	Towanda, Rfd. 6

He Fooled 'Em.

Walter Graham, the crack shot of Sayre's police force started out this morning with the intention of "fooling 'em." In the past when Graham has been sighted on a street housewives hastily called their unmuzzled dogs inside residences. So this morning Graham covered the town in a wagon, women were not looking for him in such a guise, he killed many dogs, tossed them in the wagon and there was much wailing and gnashing of teeth.—Times-Record.

Orders in Regard to Passes.

The Lehigh has issued instructions that a pass made out to "John Smith and wife" or "John Smith and family" or to "John Smith and six section men" can only be presented by John Smith. The wife, or any other member of the family or any one of the section men cannot present the pass, they must accompany "John Smith" if they want to ride free. —Sayre Times-Record.

Sunday School Organized.

A Sunday school was organized at the Pail Factory on Sunday, May 9, at 3:30. Mrs. Ella Mead, superintendent; Mrs. Mary Sluyter, assistant superintendent; W. A. Rundell, treasurer; Miss Aline Simons, secretary; Mrs. Edna Fenner, organist. Rev. W. P. Miller holds services at the Pail Factory school house at 4:30 every Sunday. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend both services.

Big Real Estate Deal.

Henry C. Porter, the well known druggist, has sold his fine residence property at the corner of Main and Lombard streets to W. Worth Jennings. The sale includes the Porter home and two modern tenement houses facing on Second street. Rodney A. Mercur, Esq., executed the papers in the deal.

Common Pleas Court.

Common pleas court started yesterday with Judge Fanning on the bench The first case on the calander, G. B. French's use vs. F. A. Gibbs, was settled and withdrawn. The second case ,D. E. Kaufman vs. U. M. Fell, garnishee of Clara P. Brown, was called for trial. The attorneys are R. A. Mercur and Wm. Maxwell.

Still Building Line.

About six weeks ago The Review published an item to the effect that the D. L. & W. was endeavoring to shorten it's line between New York and Buffalo by going through Bradford county. Since the publication of this item nearly every paper in the state has hashed it over with variations.

One of the greatest financial undertakings ever assumed by a fraternal organization was launched, when each of the 218,000 members of the Knights of Columbus in the United States and Canada will receive an appeal for contributions to the fund of $500,000, which the order has pledged itself to raise for the endowment of the Catholic University at Washington. By this step, it is thought, the permanence of the university, which is the largest Catholic institution of its kind in this country, will be insured.

Great preparations are being made for the big parade of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia on Tuesday May 25. A feature of the parade formation will be the "passion cross.

Rome expects to have a fine hall which will be the home of the Masonic and Odd Fellow lodges.

The Grand Lodges of Masons concluded its annual session at New York Thursday night after voting down the proposals for the immediate erection of a sky scraper on the site of the present Masonic Hall in this city. The question will probably come up again for consideration next year. Two changes were made in the trustees who have charge of the Masonic Hall. George A. Newell, of Medina, was selected to succeed Supreme Court Justice Townsend Scudder of Brooklyn, the chairman of the trustees, whose term of office had expired, and George A. Montgomery, of New York city was chosen to succeed Henry B. Pruser of Mount Vernon. William S. Farmer, of Syracuse was elected Chief Commissioner of Appeals to succeed Alton B. Parker.

RALPH POTTS SERIOUSLY INJURED ON PITCHFORK.

LeRaysville Farmer is in the Packer Hospital For Treatment.

Ralph Potts aged 32 years of LeRaysville a well known farmer met with a peculiar and most serious accident Wednesday afternoon of last week and was taken to the Packer hospital Thursday morning.

He was pitching hay from a bay in his barn up onto a wagon, where his son was loading it. When the load was nearly finished Potts stuck his pitchfork into the hay in the bay and climbed up the ladder at the side of the bay to see about the loading. From the ladder, he jumped backward and landed on the end of the pitchfork handle. The handle entered the lower part of the bowel, running into the body far enough so that the bladder was punctured. The man suffered terribly from the injury.

WON PRIZE.

Towandian Gets $1 For Telling How to Keep Husband Safely.

Robert H. Blake of No. 221, North Main street, Towanda, was one of the four prize winners in the contest conducted by a Philadelphia paper last week. The paper offered a dollar for each one of the four best solutions for the problem: "What Should a wife do to reform a husband who is attracted by other women." Here is Mr. Blake's prize winning answer:

"The fact that your husband is your husband does not mean that his love will be always yours. You did your best to please and fascinate him before you were married. You need to be even more fascinating and pleasing now and why? You did not belong to him before; now you do.

"It is man's nature to be always in pursuit of something, therefore, if you wish to keep his love you must keep up his interest in the chase. Never let him feel that he has actually captured you. Flirt with him, tease him (when he is in the proper mood for it). Keep up the romance as long as possible and don't get commonplace. Flatter him, trust him, and be careful not to make him jealous.

"Jealousy, though an excellent thing for a lover, is a very bad thing for a husband. It rests with yourself whether you think it worth while to humor him or not. Only, if you do not give him the consolation he wants, he will go elsewhere for it. Once lose him in this way and you may consider him lost forever."

DO NOT SPRAY BLOSSOMS.

So Says State Zoologist Surface Gives Good Advice to Fruit Growers.

The owners of fruit trees who intend spraying their trees to prevent diseases and kill the codling moth larva are advised by Prof. Surface of the Division of Economic Zoology of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture not to spray the blossoms, but to wait until after the petals have dropped, or more than three fourths are down. Injury will be caused to the blossoms if they are sprayed when open, but the spraying should not be delayed after the blossoms have fallen. To secure the best results the spray must be applied within six days after the blossoms fall, and a second spraying should be done ten days or two weeks after the first application to prove effectual.

The following are the objections to spraying trees when in bloom: There is no definite pest for which the spray is applicable at that time, and each spraying should be for something definite.

The very young fruit is liable to be injured by the spray liquid falling upon it at this time. Spraying when in bloom is a very sure way of thinning the fruit crop, but it is very unscientific and unsatisfactory.

Spraying blossoms with poison results in the destruction of bees. Bees are necessary for fertilization and setting of the fruit.

The delay of only a short time, or until just after the blossoms fall, gives the proper time for spraying for the codling moth and for plant diseases and does not result in the destruction of fruit or bees. The proper spraying material is the Bordeaux Mixture to which an arsenical poison such as Paris green or arsenate of lead is added. There are two spraying strengths for this liquid according to the hardiness of the trees or plant to be sprayed. Spray the apple, pear, quince and potato with the strong formula which calls for 3 lbs. bluestone and 4 lbs. of quick lime in 50 gallons of water, with one or two lbs. of arsenate of lead added to this. If Paris green is used, instead of the arsenate of lead, 1-3 lb. should be used to each 50 gallons.

The weak formula calls for one-half of the above quantities of bluestone, lime and arsenate of lead in 50 gallons of water. This is used on peach and plum trees on acount of their tender bark, and on similar delicate plants. Peach and plum trees do not need to be sprayed immediately after blossoming, but these and the grapes should be sprayed for wormy fruit, making the application after the fruit reaches the size of buckshot.

OVATION FOR HANNIS.

Man Acquitted of Murder Warmly Received by People in Sayre.

William Hannis, acquitted of the murder of James Bush, was given an ovation on his return to Sayre Friday evening. Concerning this, the Sayre correspondent of the Athens News says:

"Hannis with his attorney, Charles E. Mills, relatives and one of the men, who served on the jury that acquitted him, arrived in Sayre Friday evening on Lehigh train No. 127 arriving here at about 8:30 o'clock.

"A large crowd having received the news that the jury had found him not guilty, had gathered at the station and gave the party a royal welcome as the verdict was what nearly every person in Sayre had hoped for, and although it was expected, for none believed in the guilt of the accused, the joy expressed was real, and came from the heart. Every one shook hands with the attorney, and the returning jury man, but the man who had just been freed managed to slip away without attracting a great deal of attention, and when a search was made it was found that he had reached home."

Dog Finds Body.

Late Thursday afternoon Ned Turner, evidently a show man, died in the road in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Francis in Potter County. The barking of the dog of Mrs. Francis attracted his attention to the prostrated form of the man who was in a ditch. He gasped two or three times after Mr. Francis reached his side. He had nothing on his person from which the location of his home or whereabouts of relatives could be learned. He was about 70 years of age. Apoplexy evidently caused death

Lost But Little Time.

A year ago, while plowing a garden, a well known auctioneer living in the Third ward, lost his watch, which was turned under a furrow. Last week he was plowing the same garden, and uncovered the watch, which in spite of it's year under ground, was still running, and had lost but three minutes in the twelve months. The cases were as bright as the day the timer disappeared.

Two More Entrants for Six Mile Race

Two employees of the Towanda postoffice, imbued with the spirit of Marathon running by seeing so many letters addressed to The Review's six mile racing event on old home day, have entered the contest, and yesterday made the round of the course, covering the distance in one hour and 13 minutes. This is good time for the first time around the course.

Small Verdict for Slander.

August Wahlers, of Dunmore, got a verdict for $75 in Luzerne County Court Thursday morning against the Rev. John W. Randolph, pastor of St. Peter's Luthern church, Petersburg, for slander in circulating a story that Mr. Wahlers wrote a love letter to Lena Baillett, an unmarried woman, he being married.

The Cherokee Indian baseball team which played in Towanda last season, wants to arrange a game with a Towanda aggregation for June or July of this year. If the All-Stars do not get in jail or a hospital for trouncing the Colored Clouters, the Sayre Bachelors, and other aggregations, they will surely take on the Cherokees.

Regular Swatfest.

The Towanda High school baseball team went to Ithaca Saturday and walloped the Cornell university preparatory school team by the score of 25-19. The game was played on the fairgrounds at Ithaca in the forenoon. The Towanda boys had on their batting duds, and the Prep team tried seven pitchers and two catchers trying to stop the tide of hits but without avail. Smith did the pitching for Towanda, and had he been given good support, Ithaca would have had hard work to score. Blake and Gard did the receiving for Smith. The Ithaca team will play in Towanda on May 26.

Ulster Smoothers Sayre.

The Sayre baseball team went down to a crushing defeat at Ulster on Saturday by the score 11-2.

Davidson, Johnson and Farrell each pitched three innings for Ulster and Morrison did the receiving. Sayre was unable to touch the ball making but one hit, while Ulster clouted the ball to all corners of the lot. The game was a try out for Ulster and the indications are that they will have a very fast team this season and are open to meet any and all teams in this section.

Score:

Ulster	2	1	1	3	0	1	1	2	x	—11
Sayre	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	—2

Auto and Sprinkler.

Says the Athens correspondent of the Waverly Free-Press: "As Chas. Kellogg was driving his auto down Main street, the sprinkling wagon crossed the street and did not get out of the track of the auto in time. The result was that Mr. Kellogg struck the bars on the rear of the sprinkler, smashing his radiator and throwing water in all directions. The sprinkler, it is perhaps needless to say, proceeded on its way unharmed."

Dislocated Her Knee.

While Mrs. Charles H. Casper, was bringing in the washing about 6 o'clock Monday evening, she accidentally dropped a clothepin on the floor, and stepping on it was thrown with sufficient force to dislocate her left knee. Mrs. Casper had sustained a similar mishap to the same knee previously, and while she suffers excruciating pain, it is not thought that any permanent injury will result.—Athens News.

BANK FOR LAPORTE.

Sullivan County Capital to Have National Banking Institution.

The Unted States Treasury Department through Lawrence O'Murray, Comptroller of Currency, has authorized the organization of the "First National Bank of Laporte." In addition to local interests and the center and southers section of Sullivan county a number of gentlemen residing at or near Philadelphia, who are connected with the development of Lake Mokoma properties are interested in the movement.

The bank will be located on the corner of Main and Muncy streets, opposite the Laporte hotel, on a lot recently purchased for that purpose.

The authorized capital of the bank will be $25,000. A portion of the amount will be subscribed from Sullivan county and a portion supplied by parties interested in Lake Mokoma projects.

Two months is given for the raising of the necessary stock after which the subscribers of the stock will elect a board of directors and the directors in turn will elect officers of the bank who will formulate plans for the new bank building and work immediately started for the erection.

TO PREVENT POTATO SCAB.

State Zoologist Surface Tells What Treatments to Use.

The subject of the treatment of seed potatoes to prevent scab was brought to the attention of the Division of Economic Zoology of the Department of Agriculture of Pennsylvania by R. J. Belt of Wellsville, York county, Pa., treasurer of the Wells Whip company. Mr. Belt treated his potatoes with bichloride of mercury, having dissolved two ounces of corrosive sublimate in 16 gallons of water. Three times this quantity of the mixture was used on 40 bushels of potatoes.

State Zoologist H. A. Surface replied that he prefers formalin to corrosive sublimate for potato scab treatment. This is because the formalin, or formaldehyde, dissolves immediately in water, it being a liquid itself when in the commercial form, and it does not corrode any material by coming in contact with and drying upon it as the corrosive sublimate might do. After having killed the disease germs it evaporates and is gone, so that no evil after-effects can come from it. It is quickly and easily prepared, and its action upon one's hand will not be anywhere near as serious as the corrosive sublimate solution.

To prepare the mixture put 30 gallons of water into a barrel, to which add one pint of the formalin solution. This about equals one-half ounce to a gallon. This may appear weak, but it is strong enough to destroy the scab germs. Put the potatoes in bags and the bags into barrels and pour enough of the foregoing solution of formalin and water into the barrel to cover the bags, and let stand for an hour. After that take the potatoes out of the bags and let them drain. Other potatoes can be put in the bags and immersed for the treatment. The liquid can be used again and again as long as any remains. It should be kept covered to prevent escape of the fumes or evaporation, and it would be well to strengthen it occasionally by adding a little more of the solution. The potatoes can be treated either before or after cutting, but if they are not to be planted soon, dipping before cutting is best. They can be dried in crates or in barrels, or spread on the barn floor, after the same has been swept completely and scrubbed with a solution of the formalin or bichloride, whichever is being used.

The Gun Worked.

Having had a number of chickens stolen from his chicken coop, Harry Wolf of Elmira, rigged up a gun inside the hencoop, to be discharged in case the door was opened at night. A string was attached to the trigger of the gun fastened to a hook on the door. The trap was only for operation at night. Mr. Wolfe lost some money from his pocket, and while his wife and two children were searching for it Tuesday in the hencoop one of the children found the string attached to the trigger of the gun and pulled it. The gun was discharged, and Harry, the 4 year old son of Mr. Wolfe received the shot. One hand was shot off and he will probably die.

New Disease.

That Towanda man who on Monday was sentenced to the penitentiary for the eighth time in his life of less than fifty years must be afflicted with prisonitis. Most men are satisfied with one term behind the bars but this chap is evidently down on fresh air and freedom.—Williamsport Sun.

SUSQUEHANNA NAVIGATORS' THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Three Rafts Run Aground—Some Narrow Escapes From Drowning.

A party of four men in charge of two rafts of mine props which started out from Standing Stone on Saturday, had about as thrilling an experience as did the rafting crews in the days of long ago, when shipping lumber to the market by way of the Susquehanna was the common occupation, says The Wyalusing Rocket.

The rafts started out on the big freshet, and were moving along in fine shape until one of them ran into some flood trash along the edge of the river, at which one of the men became nervous and soon after, as it ran under an apple tree near the shore, the nervous man jumped into the tree and swam to the shore. From then on the cruising on the Susquehanna was of the thrilling order for both of the rafts. When they arrived opposite this place one of them ran onto the bar at the mouth of the creek and became stuck in the willows. The other one escaped this bar to meet a worse fate. There was only one man on the raft, and of course but little steering could be done—just follow where the current sent it, and as it happened it was aimed straight for the pier on the eastern end of the river bridge, and when it struck there was certainly something doing for a time—the raft going like a runaway, shot the heavy timbers straight up in the air with the apparent intention of sending the props over instead of under the bridge. The unwilling passenger stuck to the props, which lodged against the pier, and yelling for all he was worth, soon attracted the assistance that he so much desired. A rope was secured from Welles' saw mill near by and he was soon pulled up on the bridge in safety.

The two men on the other raft were taken off in boats, so nearly frozen that they could hardly stand. The rafts were owned by George Culver, who has been doing considerable lumbering along the Susquehanna for the past few years. A third raft, whose owner is unknown is lodged on Terry's island, just above Wyalusing.

PREMONITION OF DEATH.

Young Wilkes-Barre Child Foresaw the Accident to His Father.

A strange coincidence in connection with the death several days ago of Bruce C. Long of Wilkes-Barre, the D. & H. brakeman who was killed in the wreck at Hudson, was the premonition which came to his son aged three years on the night of the accident.

The child had retired about 8 o'clock and an hour later Mrs. Long heard him tossing about the bed. She asked him why he was not asleep when he answered, "Papa is dead. He is under the cars with his legs cut off." The mother tried to change his mind about the matter but was unable to do so and the child refused to go to sleep.

Less than an hour afterwards the dead and mangled body of Long was carried into the house in the very condition as foretold by the little son.

Given a Royal Sendoff.

Frank W. Browning, formerly of Towanda, who is employed as assistant foreman on the construction of the new 250 feet chimney, of the Forstman & Huffman Woolen Co., at Garfield, near Passaic, N. J., has gone to Utica, N. Y., to build a 200 feet chimney for the Lynch & Kelley Co. Before his departure from Garfield he gave a dinner for his friends at Passaic on Wednesday, at 8 a. m., when he started for the train for Utica, all his friends were at the station to bid him farwell. Otto B. Harisch, manager of the Otto & Herman Harnisch Co. presented him with a fine diamond ring and Jules M. Coon gave him a fine gold watch. When the train started his friends gave him three cheers, and promised to make him a visit at Utica.

Thorn in Appendix.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Dooley today received a message from Clearfield that their granddaughter Wanda, who had been operated on for appendicitis, was getting along favorably. Of the operation performed on the little girl the Clearfield Public Spirit says: "Little Wanda, the five years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dooley, was taken to the Clearfield hospital Monday afternoon, where Dr. Wentworth operated on her for appendicitis. When the appendix had been removed a double seed was found therein and a small thorn from a rose bush or berry vine had lodged in the appendix and puncturing the wall was found protruding therefrom. The little lady is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances and will soon be alright again."

Some Big Prices.

Some big prices were paid for stock at the auction sale held by Robert Hall at West Burlington Wednesday Two four years old cows brought $51 and $37.50 each; while two three years old cows brought $40.25 and $39.25 each. A mare and colt sold for $150.25, and a roan horse went for $149.75. A mowing machine brought $20 and this in spite of the fact that it was third handed and had been used a long time. Hay sold for $8.50 a ton in the mow, and wheat and other grain brought a trifle over the regular market prices. There was a large attendance and every article was sold. Port Northrup of Towanda, was the auctioneer.

IMPORTANT LAW SIGNED BY GOVERNOR STUART.

Certificates Must Be Attached to All Mortgages and Assignments.

Certificates showing the residence of persons who give mortgages or who loan money in other forms must, in the future, according to a bill just signed by the governor of this state, must be attached to the mortgage or agreement in order to make them legal. The act is as follows:

An act directing the Recorder of Deeds of each county of this Commonwealth to refuse for record all mortgages, assignments of mortgages and agreements for the payment of money unless a certificate is attached to said mortgages, assignees and persons entitled to interest and requiring a list thereof to be delivered to the proper Board of Revision of Taxes or other officials charged with the assessment of State tax.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that for obtaining with accuracy the precise residence of all mortgagees, assigners and persons to whom interest is payable on articles of agreement, it shall be the duty of the Recorder of Deeds in each county, whenever a mortgage, assignment or agreement given to secure the payment of money shall be presented to him for record, to refuse the same unless the said mortgage, assignment or agreement has attached thereto and made part of said mortgage, assignment or agreement a certificate signed by said mortgagee, assignee or person entitled to interest or his, her or their duly authorized attorney or agent, setting forth the precise residence of such mortgagee, assignee or person entitled to interest; said certificate to be recorded with said mortgage, assignment or agreement, and therefrom the said Recorder shall prepare and deliver at stated intervals to the proper Board of Revision of Taxes or other officials charged with the assessment of State tax, a list of said mortgages, assignments and agreements with the names and residences of said mortgagees, assignees or persons entitled to interest, with the amount and date of said mortgages assignments and articles of agreement, with the date of recording and the properities upon which the debt are secured.

Organization Perfected.

The Valley Industrial association was formed Tuesday evening, and it starts off with a membership of 507 citizens of Waverly, South Waverly, Sayre and Athens. As set forth in the constitution that was adopted at the meeting, "The object of the association shall be the development and protection by joint and concerted action of the commercial and manufacturing interests of the boroughs of Sayre, Athens and South Waverly in Pennsylvania, and the village of Waverly in New York, and the promotion of a community of interest among the several municipalities and the territory adjacent thereto."

Scranton Slander Suit.

In the court at Scranton the trial of the slander suit of August Wahlers against Rev. John W. Randolph, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran church of Petersburg, is attracting quite a bit of attention. Whalers was the former organist in the above church and claims that Rev. Mr. Randolph tried to slander his good name and character by circulating a report that he had written a love letter to one of the choir girls.

Advertised Letters.

List of letters in the postoffice for the week ending May 4: Mrs. William Adamson, Miss Grace Newman, Miss Tressie Vanderpool, Ruth Moore, Geo. Adams, Richard Ackley and J. E. Spencer. Then and Now.

Says the LeRaysville Times: "H. W. Shortelle has in his possession an assessor's book of LeRaysville borough for the year 1879. A remarkable fact in regard to the list of taxable is that over fifty of the then well-know citizens of our borough have died. The valuations at that time were considerably lower than at present."

Good Sale of Poultry.

L. W. Pratt of LeRaysville, who is a very extensive breeder of Black Lthorn chickens who has taken many prizes at different poultry shows, made a sale last week of Black Leghorns to a party in Connecticut that netted him quite a sum of money. The party purchased 100 pullets and 8 roosters and paid for the lot $270.00.

New Albany Business Change.

Horton & Norton who have conducted the New Albany coal yard for some time have dissolved partnership, Mr. Horton retiring. N. J. Norton having purchased Mr. Horton's interest, will continue the business.

BARN BURNED.

Building in Ridgebury Destroyed as a Result of Lightning Stroke.

The large barn on the farm of Patrick Leahy in Ridgebury township, was completely destroyed by fire resulting from being struck by lightning during the heavy electrical storm which prevailed about 8 o'clock on Thursday evening of last week, and 300 bushels of oats and a quantity of hay, besides several farming implements went up in smoke.

By prompt action several cows and a pair of horses were taken out of the building, but a yearling heifer perished in the flames, so rapidly did the fire spread that it was impossible to resue her. The illumination from the burning building could be plainly seen in Milan and vicinity.

LIGHTNING STRUCK OIL TANK.

Tank Near State Run Burned With 20,000 Gallons of Oil.

At 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon lightning struck and set fire to a large crude oil tank, the property of the Tidewater Pipe Line company at County Line, seven miles from Slate Run. It had a capacity of 36,000 barrels and at the time it was struck contained 20,000 barrels of oil, all of which was consumed. The flames shot up into the air almost 70 feet and the fire was seen for a radius of many miles, the tank being situated on the top of a mountain.

A large number of men were set to work building embankments around the tank to prevent the oil from spreading to another tank, a short distance away. This tank was saved, but the tank that was struck by the lightning and its contents were a total loss. The flames raged all night and burned out Friday morning. No damage was done to the pumping station.—Wellsboro Advocate.

Meshoppen Has a Boat Club.

A meeting of the Meshoppen Boat Club and Fish Protective Association was held at Hotel Kennard last Monday evening when the following officers were elected: President, N. E. Overfield; vice president, Wm. Colt; secretary, Dr. S. A. Sturdevant; treasurer, Chester H. Wells; dock policeman, G. M. Thompkins. Much business was considered and bills ordered paid for the building of the new dock which is much larger than the one carried away by the high water last Winter. It is eight feet wide and 48 feet long and stands out of the water about eight inches. A resolution was adopted to number each boat and a staple attached to the dock will have the same number to which the member's boat is to be locked.

A Brighter Sayre.

A number of large electric signs are being put up about Sayre by the Sayre Electric Company, and when they are all burning about the streets after nightfall will present a brilliant sight. One has been placed in front of Drigg's drug store, one in front of F. P. Murphy's clothing store, two on the Reeser, Kessler-Wieland department store, and one on the Globe Warehouse.

Great Presence of Mind.

Samuel Thomas slipped down a steep roof at Owego Wednesday and escaped serious injury by hanging to the eaves. He was doing some tinning on the roof of the Front street residence and lost his footing. As he went over the edge he grasped the edge and clung 25 feet above the ground until rescued by a ladder.

Just Out.

The annual L'Agenda published by the students of Bucknell was issued this week by Manager Frank M. Jenner of Troy. The book is handsomely bound in black and gold, containing 300 pages, and is conceded one of the best college annuals put out in recent years at Bucknell.

Hearing Postponed.

Shepard; secretary, J. A. Elliott. John H. Shepherd, of Wilkes-Barre, has been elected director of music for Mansfield Normal, to succeed Dr. C. H. Lewis, who tendered his resignation some time since. Mrs. Sheperd will be teacher of voice, succeeding Miss Salmon. Mrs. Mary A. Jenks will be supervisor of the Model School, succeeding Miss Eliza J. Boyce, who will become critic teacher in this department. Mrs. A. Bauman will retire, and Professor J. W. Kern has resigned in order that he may pursue a course in technical chemistry. His successor has not been chosen. With these exceptions, the present faculty was re-elected for the next school year.

PERPETUAL MOTION MACHINE.

Bloomsburg Man Has Backing of Wilkes-Barre Capitalists.

D. L. Rhone of Bloomsburg, for many years station agent at Rupert for the D., L. & W. R. R. Co., claims he has invented a perpetual motion machine or apparatus after many years of hard work. He has secured the backing of several Wilkes-Barre capitalists and yesterday they started the manufacture of the machines at the Richards Manufacturing Co.'s plant at Bloomsburg.

Mr. Rhone feels confident that he has solved the perpetual motion theory, but so far refuses to give any details of what the machine consists of. The appearance of the first machine is anxiously watched for and if it proves as successful as the inventor claims it will, the general public will be given a chance to see what it is.

Troy Hotel Changes Hands.

Earl W. Stanton, for the past four months the obliging clerk at the Ward House, under the regime of Landlord French, has purchased the Troy House at Troy from M. J. McNulty, who has been conducting that well known hostelry for the past few months. Possession will be given as soon as the license is transferred by the court. Mr. Stanton has had long experience in the hotel business, and was with Mr. French at the Troy House for a long time before coming to Towanda, and is thus well acquainted with the territory and the house over which he will preside as landlord. The Troy House is one of the best stands in the county, and the new proprietor will undoubtedly enjoy a fine patronage. He has made many friends during his short stay in Towanda, all of whom will wish him success in his new location.

On With the Hearing.

Special County Judge Bell of Waverly, before whom the Hewitt will contest is being heard, refused to grant the motion to dismiss the contestants' proceedings. The motion was made at the last hearing by Lewis Marshall, one of the attorneys for the proponent to probate the will and Judge Bell reserved his decision which has just been given.

Will Resign His Office.

Deputy Atorney General Fred W. Fleitz, of Scranton, formerly of Wellsboro, who was severely injured in an automobile accident more than two years ago and is still suffering from his hurt, will resign this office in the near future and devote his entire time to the private practice of the law and local politics.

Transferred to Towanda.

A few changes have been made among the men employed on the Hall signal system. J. D. LaFrance has been transferred to Falls, and W. A. Lake has been transferred from Tunkhannock to this place, instead of Elmer Johnson, who was transferred to Towanda.—Laceyville Messenger.

Epidemic of Blondiness.

A prank of a Casadilla school student of Ithaca, N. Y., has caused an epidemic of masculine peroxides in the preparatory school during the past few days. The student missed a great deal of bay rum kept for shaving purposes. He suspected his classmates in the dormitory and refilled the bottle with peroxide of hydrogen. As a result several students were transformed into peroxide blonds when they appeared in their classes. Two members who had jet black hair are now beautiful blonds, while another with red hair is adorned with locks of silver whiteness. Many have shaved their heads, but all have vowed to buy their own bay rum in the future.

Served Her Right.

A story was going the rounds Monday of a woman who went into a store in this vicinity and bought a spool of thread and asked that it be sent to her home. The proprietor, who is somewhat of a practical joker, got a dray and sent two men with planks to the back door of her home. They then rolled the spool of thread, labelled with a shipping tag, from the dray along the planks and stood it on the porch, and the neighbors, who had been "put wise" by phone, turned out to witness the performance.—Wellsboro Agitator.

Sayre Child Chewed by Dog.

Hazel, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Hassler, of Sayre was badly bitten on the left side of the face and head by a dog owned by R. S. Loomis. The animal for some time has been tied upon Mr. Loomis' premises, and the little girl was playing with it Friday afternoon. Although the dog has never been known to be vicious, it grabbed the little girl by the left cheek, causing several puncured wounds and lacerations of the scalp.

MISS LIZZIE ROCKWELL WINS THE DIAMOND RING

Miss Dora Elliott and Miss Lucy Kennedy Win the Handsome Gold Watches.

CONTEST CLOSES SATURDAY EVENING

Seven Young Misses Will Be Given the Time of Their Lives, Starting Tuesday, June 1st.

The diamond ring and gold watches that were offered to the three contestants making the greatest gain in votes between April 22 and May 6 brought a veritable avalanche of ballots.

The rush to the ballot box began upon the opening of the polls Thursday and continued all day long for one long never ending stream the ballots flowed into the ballot box. The office force was kept busy issuing ballots which were immediately voted for the various candidates.

The enthusiasm among the candidates and their contest representatives was intense and increased as the day advanced.

Many interested in the outcome had assembled in the Reporter Journal office and were anxiously awaiting the bulletins.

Many unlooked for surprises came up and the exceptionally large vote is a good criterion of the hustle and progressiveness of these popular young ladies of Bradford county.

The prize winners of these specials do not necessarily mean the winners in the end, because the leaders now may be distanced. This delightful trip can be won or lost by the amount of energy and push you inject into your race this last lap.

There remain three days of the contest to determine who will take the vacation trip to Bermuda.

The contestant who secures the greatest number of votes in all the districts will be the one who chooses the chaperon of the party and the person who nominated the highest vote-getter will get the ten dollars in gold. Now is the time that the effective work can be done.

There must naturally be disappointments as well as prizes in such a contest, but after all, the big prizes are yet to come, and those who have lost have the satisfaction of having made a good fight, which is greatly to their credit. It is something to be a good loser and often helps one to win bigger events later on.

The Reporter-Journal clerical force had a very busy evening—it was almost as bad as a Presidential election. There is lots of work to be done yet making out receipts and getting the new orders correctly entered on the books and on the mailing list. The Daily Review and Reporter-Journal goes into a good many new homes and we shall make every effort to keep them there.

CONTEST CLOSES SATURDAY.

Saturday will be the end, the finish, the wind up in the great Bermuda Islands contest, which has created such a stir and interested so many thousands during these last few weeks. It will mean,, too, the end of the strenous work contestants have been doing since the contest started.

In this race the women are voting as well as the men, and they are taking advantage of their rights and are waging a fight along the same line that would give pointers to the old political ward heelers. This race is on a friendly basis, however, and the best of good feeling prevails while the contest progresses and as the end draws near the rivalry is getting more intense.

JUST THREE DAYS YET.

Remember you have just three days yet and you can do a lot of good, hard, systematic work in that time, and another thing you want to figure on is this, that when the contest closes down o the last day or so, the excitement will be intense and those friends who have given you their support during the race will be just as anxious for you to win as you are, and the ones who have given you one subscription will be willing to give you another to help you along and don't be afraid to ask them for it because they will only be too glad to help you as much as possible. Remember you are not asking a person for something from which they get no return, but merely for an advance payment for their paper instead of paying for it in the regular way.

ALL HAVE FRIENDS.

This contest is the best thing in the world to show whether you have many friends or not, but the record of the vote cast shows that each and every one of the contestants have legions of friends as the bunch of votes that ar taken out of the ballot box every night testifies.

Election Changes.

All the constitutional amendments proposed by the last Legislature have been abandoned except the one which will make decided changes in the election, abolishing entirely the February elections. The amendment will be voted upon next November and if it carries there shall be but one more February election. After that county and muncipal officers will be chosen in November of odd years and state and national elections will be held in even years, the terms of state and county officers meanwhile being raised from two and three years to four. Election officers will be chosen for two years. The term of many of those who will be holding office when the amendment is adopted will be extended, so that the requirements of the new fundamental law can be carried out.

Towanda Girl Complimented.

The Meshoppen correspondent of the Wilkes-Barre Record in writing of the meeting of the Meshoppen Musical society, pays the following compliment to a Towanda girl: "A very pleasing addition to the program was the piano playing of Miss Blanche Curran of Towanda, a young miss of thirteen, who plays difficult music in a fine manner. Miss Curran also sang a solo, which was much enjoyed." Miss Curran is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Curran.

WEDDING CAUSES TROUBLE.

Groom is Badly Used Up by Bride's Father and Brother.

Although married less than a week James Phillips, a resident of Sullivan county, near Strawbridge, has already had a heap of trouble.

One day last week he and a daughter of Albert Phillips went to Elmira and were married, returning Friday and stopped at the residence of Walter Shoemaker, in Penn township.

The father of the girl objected to the marriage, she being but 16 years of age. On Friday evening he and his son Lloyd went to the Shoemaker residence and entering proceeded to have a "rough house." They beat the groom in a bad manner and also used Mrs. Shoemaker quite roughly, besides swearing and blaspheming in a manner most disgusting.

The intruders were finally ejected from the house, they going before Justice of the Peace Holmes and making information, charging James Phillips with enticing the girl away from home and assault and battery.

On Tuesday the newly made benedict and Shoemaker appeared before 'Squire Swartz, in this place, and made information against Albert and Lloyd Phillips, charging them with assault and aggravated assault. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Constable Houseknecht.

Phillips presented a much battered appearance on Tuesday, showing that his assailants had used him quite rough. His face was badly bruised and his thumb looked as if it had been bitten or hacked with a knife.

MISS WILKINSON WITHDRAWS.

Bermuda Contestant in District No. 3 Made a Fine Record.

Miss Bertha Wilkinson of Wyalusing one of the Towanda Printing Company's energetic contestants in District No. 3, has withdrawn her name from the contest. Enforcing Pure Food Law.

A news dispatch from Harrisburg says: "Dairy and food commissioner James Foust today directed that fifty eight prosecutions be entered against violators of the new law prohibiting the sale of adulterated soft drinks, in Beaver, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties, also fourteen watered milk prosecutions in Blair, Cambria, Center, Clearfield, Huntingdon, and Miffin counties, seven misbranded lard cases in Allegheny County and nine cider viegar cases in Fayette County. This made a total of eighty-eight prosecutions ordered today."

Unknown Man Killed.

An unknown man who attempted to board westbound Erie freight train No. 1642 at 11:23 o'clock on Tuesday forenoon in front of the Erie freight station at Waverly was thrown under the wheels, his body terribly mangled, and he lived only five minutes after the accident. The man was a stranger in Waverly, no one being found who was able to identify him. He was about thirty-five years of age, and weighed about 190 pounds being of athletic build. His face was smooth shaven. He wore a black suit, white shirt, a black derby hat bearing the name of Hallock, an Elmira firm, and Douglass button shoes.

His Second Murder Trial.

Jacob G. Westbrook of Athens township, one of the twelve jurors selected to hear the case of the Commonwealth vs. William Hannis, was one of the jury which acquitted Sharrone, the man accused of the murder of Eugene Messenger at Athens. Mr. Westbrook was in favor of a conviction in the Sharrone case, and it required a lot to convince him that the Italian was not guilty of murder. How he will look upon the Hannis case remains to be seen.

A Wonderful Paint.

ENCAMPMENT WILL BE HELD ON TOWANDA FAIR GROUNDS.

Soldiers and Sailors Select Towanda For This Year's Meeting Place.

At a meeting of the Bradford County Soldiers' and Sailors' Encampment Association held in the Watkins Post rooms in Towanda Monday, it was decided to hold the 1909 encampment on the East Towanda fair grounds, at a date to be selected by the executive committee. It was also decided to charge an admission of ten cents to soldiers and everybody, except children under 12 years years of age.

There was a large attendance of veterans from all over the county at the meeting yesterday. The Soldiers and Sailors Monumental association met in the forenoon, and elected the following officers: C. T. Hull, president; J. H. Chaffee, vice president; Alexander Keefe, secretary. The committee appointed last year to have date of erection placed on the soldiers and sailors monument in front of court house, reported and the committee was discharged.

The Soldiers and Sailors Encampment association met in the afternoon, and besides deciding upon the 1909 meeting place, elected the following officers: Daniel E. Boardman, commander to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Giles M. Coons; H. H. Bentley, senior vice commander; John A. Allen, junior vice-commander..

SUPERVISORS WARNED.

Many times this paper has called attention to the disregard, in many townships in the county, of the law requiring the removal of loose stones in the highway. This law is specific and supervisors under its provisions could be made to suffer severely if citizens cared to apply it. On the other hand the good to be obtained by the supervisor's observance of the law's provision is so great that there ought to be a faithful fulfillment of the same.

From and after the passage of this act, the township supervisors and road commissioners of the several townships within this commonwealth shall, by contract or otherwise, remove and take away the loose stones from traveled roads or highways in such townships, at least once each month during the months of May, June, August and October in each year.

In case of neglect or refusal of the supervisors or road commissioners to carry out the provisions of the first section of this act, they shall forfeit and pay for every such offense, neglect or refusal a fine or penalty not exceeding ten dollars, to be recovered by action of debt in the name of the commonwealth, before any justice of the peace or alderman of the county, with costs of suit. One-half of such fine to go to the informer or prosecutor, and the other one-half to be applied to repairing the roads or highways of the township.

Hard Luck.

Edward Davis, of Galeton, at one time landlord of the Imperial Hotel there, recently sustained a serious loss, says the Westfield Free Press. He sold his house and lot and received a draft for $2,400 which he took to a place in New York where he had arranged to go into the grocery business. He deposited the draft there and before it was collected the bank on which it was drawn closed its doors. Mr. Davis has but one arm and has the sympathy of all who know him.

Summer Normal Opened.

The Towanda Summer Normal school for teachers, opened in the S. C. I. building Monday morning with an enrollment of 23. Prof. W. T. Clark, principal of the Ulster graded schools, is in charge of the Normal, and is assisted by Miss Lelah Sterling, assistant principal of the Hall, Susquehanna county graded schools. Other instructors will be added to the corps as needed. It is expected that the enrollment will be over 100 within a few days.

Arrested on Bench Warrant.

County Detective McCracken Monday arrested Francis Heeman on a bench warrant and placed him in the county jail. In 905 Heeman became mixed up in a coal stealing deal, and while awaiting for the mills of justice to grind, took his departure. He has been living at Elmira, and yesterday he came to Towanda, and while enjoying the breezes on the wagon bridge, was arrested by Detective McCracken.

Deserved to Lose.

Betting $1 with Vincent Zigota that he could eat 40 bananas and a big sponge cake in 25 minutes, George Dominick of Hazelton, stalled after he had stowed away 39 of the bananas and about three-fourths of the cake. He not only lost his $1, but he had to pay for the goods, and felt rather drowsy.

Action in Trespass.

Thomas A. Davidson of Meshoppen, has commenced an action of trespass against Meshoppen township for damages on account of falling over an embankment which was left ungarded along a public road. The suit if for $1,000, and J. Wood Piatt of Tunkhannock, is his attorney.

HARVEY'S LAKE PARK.

New Company Leases Grounds and Will Make Resort Boom.

Harvey's Lake will shortly become more popular than ever for picnics, outings and excursions, as last week a deal was consummated whereby the Harvey's Lake Park company, composed of several Wilkes-Barre business men and capitalists, leased the old Lehigh Valley picnic ground at the lake and propose to make it the most popular and attractive resort in this section of the state.

The new pleasure park promises to have many novel and attractive features, according to the plans of the promoters, combining the best features of seashore and mountain resort, and including boating and bathing, with commodious bathing houses, dancing pavilions, roller coaster, jumping carousal, restaurants, refreshment stands, kitchen for picnic parties, swings, booths of all kinds, benches and all that will conduce to the comfort, entertainment and enjoyment of the patrons.

Not the least attractive features will be a large athletic ground, well laid out for baseball, hand ball, tennis, races and all kinds of athletic sports. Work will be commenced this week getting the park in shape for the picnic and excursion season, and while all that the promotors have planned cannot be accomplished this year, enough will be done to make the Harvey's Lake picnic ground more attractive than it ever was before.

CHILD COVERED WITH HIVES

Tormented Two Months—It Itched and Irritated and Scratching Made It Worse—Little Sufferer in Terrible Plight—Several Treatments of No Avail—But at Last the

DREADFUL DISEASE IS CURED BY CUTICURA

"My six year old daughter had the dreadful disease called hives for two months. She became affected by playing with children who had it, although we did not know it. By scratching she caused large sores which were irritating. Her body was a complete sore but it was worse on her arms and back. We employed a physician who left medicine but it did not help her and I tried several remedies but without avail. Seeing the Cuticura Remedies advertised, I thought I would try them. I gave her a hot bath daily with Cuticura Soap and anointed her body with Cuticura Ointment. The first treatment relieved the itching and in a short time the disease disappeared. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all skin diseases and give them my greatest praise. Mrs. Geo. L. Fridhoff, R. F. D. 1, Warren, Mich., June 30 and July 13, 1908."

Boy's Back Raw

From Shoulder to Shoulder. Scratched till Blood Ran. Cured by Cuticura.

"My son's back was raw from shoulder to shoulder and the width of your hand. I really did not think he ever would be cured. He would scratch until the blood would run and he was like a raw piece of meat. I used different kinds of things but each kind made it worse until I read of the Cuticura Remedies, and one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment cured him like magic. I would not be without it in the house and I have recommended it to all my friends. Mrs. J. D. Maxwell, 6th St., Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., May 21, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults, consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood.
